'No Cash' Policy May Be Added

Nations Refusing News on U.N.R.R.A. Acts Would Be Hit

Washington, June 27 (AP)—A "no news-no cash" policy that would fit Russia's muted support today as an amendment to the proposed $465,000,000 U.N.R.R.A. appropriation.

Ostensibly directed at any nation imposing censorship on news dealing with the relief agency's activities, the amendment is aimed primarily at the existing situation in the Soviet Union, according to its supporters.

Sentiment behind the proposal gained strength after President Truman reported to Congress Tuesday that Moscow had refused to permit uncensored reports from American correspondents on U.N.R.R.A. operations in the Soviet republics of Ukraine and Byelorussia (White Russia).

Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told reporters in advance of debate on the relief fund that he would offer the amendment to restrict the money to nations giving free access to visiting reporters seeking information on U.N.R.R.A. activities.

If accepted, it would block U.N.R.R.A. aid not only for the Ukrainian and Byelorussian republics, Dirksen said, but also for Romania and possibly northern Korea because of the difficulties which have been raised to unhampered American press coverage of the latter two areas.

While Romania was not mentioned in the President's report, Dirksen said an American reporter recently was ejected from that country.

How much of the new $465,000,000 fund is earmarked for Ukraine and Byelorussia, Dirksen said he did not know, nor was the information available from the House Appropriations Committee, which recommended the allotment.

Latest committee figures indicated that up to last April $1,000,000,000 had been given to U.N.R.R.A. aid had been given to the two Soviet republics, both of which were heavy sufferers throughout the war years.

Dirksen and Rep. Taber of New York, top Republican on the Appropriations Committee, predicted the "no news-no cash" amendment would be adopted easily by the House.

Nickerson Is Appointed

Albany, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—G. L. Nickerson, assistant engineer of the state public works department, has been appointed Albany district engineer, the department announced today. Nickerson succeeds P. L. Lamb, who has been acting engineer for the Albany district. The department said, A. R. Eskin, associate civil engineer of the Buffalo district, has been made successor to Nickerson at Poughkeepsie.

Williams Is Given 15 Years to Life As 4th Offender

'Matinee Burglar' Hears Sentence Pronounced; Court Recedes to July 8

New York, June 27 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today appointed special representatives to work with the United Nations headquarters Commission which will start inspections in the Westchester-Fairfield area within two weeks in efforts to locate a permanent home for the U.N.

The commission will begin an on-the-spot survey of the New York-Connecticut area preparatory to recommending definite sites within that zone for final consideration by the general assembly in September.

The governor, after meeting four members of the commission, announced that Orrin D. Judd, of Brooklyn, former solicitor general and now special assistant in the attorney general's office and State Senator Pliny Williamson, of Scarsdale, Republican, would represent the state. Williamson also is chairman of the state joint legislative committee on U.N. affairs.

Gov. Dewey said the two "would facilitate Commission efforts" and represent the state in all related matters.

Dewey met with Sir Angus Fletcher, of Britain, Awni Khalidi, of Jordan, Juan F. Yriarte, of Uruguay, and Jonker Jan De Rantz, of the Netherlands.

"I am deeply gratified by the assurances of Sir Angus and his associates that they earnestly desire within the limits of their mandate to find a location most agreeable to the people of the area and they intend to consult with local officials and work out matters, including removal of property from the tax rolls to the satisfaction of all concerned insofar as humanly possible," Gov. Dewey said.

"I assured the delegation of the continuing interest and cordial welcome and full cooperation of the State of New York in all their endeavors."

To Give Report
The nine-man commission will report to the assembly in September on the two-county area with definite recommendations as to exactly where the world headquarters should be built.

Representatives of the group already have paid a courtesy call on the President.

Texan Would Talk O. P. A. To Death; Doesn't Like It

Washington, June 27 (AP)—President Truman told his news conference today he is trying to persuade Chester Bowles to remain at his post as economic stabilizer.

Bowles' resignation as a result of restrictions on O.P.A. powers contemplated in pending extension legislation has been talked.

Truman said Bowles has been trying to quit ever since he took office and that he, Mr. Truman, had been successful so far in keeping him on the job. Bowles conferred with the President yesterday but refused to discuss the matter with reporters.

Mr. Truman declined to discuss the matter with reporters.

Shortage of Meat Shows No Sign Of Getting Better

Fish and Fowl Are Main Alternatives for American Housewives

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's housewives were running out of plans on preparing meatless family menus today as the acute shortage of fresh meat showed no indications of immediate improvement.

Fish and fowl appeared the alternative main dish for family Sunday dinners as butcher shops across the country reported little or no fresh meat. The National Association of Retail Meat Dealers said about half of the country's shops had closed.

Families planning on getting a meal of meat in restaurants for a change may be disappointed. The National Restaurant Association said the shortage had resulted in increased business and was a great additional burden on the restaurants.

As the senate debated the fate of the O.P.A. extension bill, the general expression by packer industry spokesmen was that continuation of price controls on meat and livestock would bring no relief and would increase black market operations.

(D-Texas) to speak in the senate until Sunday midnight, when the O.P.A. expires, won the support of J. W. Stevens, secretary of the Individual Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association of St. Louis.

He urged members to telegraph O'Daniel to go ahead with his speech. Earlier they had voted 107 to 200 to close their meat counters one day a week during the current shortage.

In New York city, where consumers couldn't even buy meat in the black market, Mildred A. Gutwilling, chairman of the New York City Consumer Council, said it called a meeting of 65 affiliated groups to fight the meat and

Total for Nation Is 307,554; New York State Lost Most in Service

One hundred ninety-seven Ulster county men and women are listed in the first consolidated release of army dead and missing in World War 2 in a compilation of the names of nearly 310,000 men and women who gave their lives in the nation's service.

An overall death and missing rate of 2.98 per cent from all causes was indicated by the listing released today by the War Department. Of more than 10,000,000 men and women mobilized into the army between the presidential declaration of unlimited national emergency on May 27, 1941 and the concluding date of the study, January 31, 1946, a total of 307,554 had been killed in action, died of other causes or became missing, later to be determined dead. In addition, 1,424 persons were still carried as missing on January 31, bringing the total number of names in the list to 308,978.

New York state, with the largest population and the largest contribution to the army's strength, lost 31,215 persons, the greatest number of any state.

The tabulation of casualties in Ulster county as listed in the casualty booklet follows: Lieut. Harold Adelman, Sgt. James J. Albany, Pvt. Michael J. Altamari, P.F.C. John J. Amarello, Staff Sgt. William D. Ashdown, P.F.C. Joseph Beirach, P.F.C. Ernest M. Benjamin, P.F.C. Clifford E. Bennett, P.F.C. C. C. B. Bennett, Pvt. Roger P. Bezzaro, Jr., Pvt. Lamar C. Bixler, Sgt. Paul Black, P.F.C. Pacific Lumber Lashes O.P.A. 'Racket' Charge

Matsuoka Dies Of Tuberculosis

Linked Japan With Axis, Maneuvered Soviet Neutrality Pact

Tokyo, June 27 (AP)—Yusuke Matsuoka, the one-time foreign minister who formally linked Japan with the Axis and today with "great regrets" that he could not defend himself in the international war crimes court.

The disease-wasted University of Oregon graduate realized for days that death was near, and frequently told his eldest son, Kenjiro, that he had many things to say to the court—a defense that probably never will be told in full. War crimes charged against him were officially withdrawn after his death.

Tuberculosis, which brought his death at 66 in unkempt, odoriferous Tokyo Imperial University Hospital, first afflicted him in 1941 and sent quickly into disease-induced obscurity, his health broken during the strenuous months in power.

When Americans moved into Japan last fall, he was living in a tiny mountain lodge—his luxurious, foreign-style home in Tokyo completely gutted by firebombs.

He wrote no will, but left his family a classic Japanese poem translated roughly as: "With no regret, no hate, down the dark road do I go."

Suits Are Labeled 'Political' by One Executive; Four States Cited

San Francisco, June 27 (AP)—Pacific coast lumbermen lashed back today at Office of Price Administration officials who pressed forward a move to smash what they called increasing "rackets" that have caused "artificial" lumber shortages all over the country.

The O.P.A. yesterday filed suit against 40 lumber companies in Federal courts of California, Oregon, Washington, and Arizona, seeking to collect a total of $9,043,530 in treble damages. The alleged violations involved some 65,649,123 board feet of lumber.

At Aberdeen, Wash., Henry W. Anderson, president of the Twin Harbors Lumber Co., called the suits a "political move."

"I think it a crime that the O.P.A. should pick on the northwest operator while southern operators are running rampant on the black market," he declared. The Twin Harbors Lumber Company was named defendant in suit seeking an estimated $325,000 in damages.

"These suits are based on differences of opinion in interpreting O.P.A. ceilings," R. G. Robbins, president of the R. G. Robbins Lumber Co. of Portland, said.

Anticipating that the O.P.A. would be accused of "interfering with recognized business practices," lumber enforcement chief Ralph Golub, as the suits were filed, listed as violations the following:

The diversion of lumber, consisting of the shipment of lumber to the shipper himself at dummy addresses, to be held for bargaining.

State Increases Equalization Rate For Ulster County

Average Assessment Rate Has Been Set at 93.17 on State's 1946 Table

Albany, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Taxable real estate is being assessed at more nearly its actual value than anytime in state history, the Department of Taxation said today.

The department also reported that New York's total assessed valuations had increased for the first time since 1939.

The department listed these equalization rate increases by counties: Suffolk, 54 to 61; Sullivan, 62 to 66; Dutchess, 69 to 70; and Ulster, 82 to 85.

Alger E. Chapman, State Tax Commission president, said the average rate of assessment has been set at a record 93.17 per cent on the 1946 state equalization table, released today. It was 92.90 per cent a year ago.

Chapman reported the state's 1945 aggregate assessed valuation of all taxable real property at $24,988,106,511, an increase of $72,781,640 over 1944. The full value of taxable real property last year was $26,820,490,452, up $1,490,982 over the previous year.

Although the gain in assessed valuation was the first since 1939, Chapman said, it was the lowest total, except for 1944, since 1928. Chapman said the 1946 equalization table provided increased rates for 11 counties and decreases in four.

Equalization Explained
The equalization rate is the percentage of the full value at which property is assessed. It is fixed by the State Tax Commission sitting as a state board of equalization. The rate assigned to the counties is based on rates the commission previously has determined for cities and towns to equalize special franchise valuations, such as for public utilities.

The principal use of the rate is to equalize various counties' shares to be paid the state as Supreme Court and stenographers' taxes. The rate figured prominently in the days when the state levied a property tax.

The assessment rates assigned to cities and towns are more significant because they are used to equalize public utility franchise valuations and also are a factor

Storm May Cause Postponement of Atomic Bomb Test

Good Conditions Would Find Winds up to 10,000 Feet; Will It Cause Typhoon?

Aboard U.S.S. Appalachian, June 27 (AP)—If weather delays the first atomic bomb test until about the third week of August, then no tests will be held this year.

Favorable test weather requires winds of about the same direction up to 60,000 feet. There are only a few days remaining in which this perfect condition is expected. The typhoon season is approaching.

But meteorologists have discovered a way out, raising the possibility of good enough weather to 13 days in July alone. This is slow stratosphere winds. If the atomic cloud moves slowly through the stratosphere it will have lost its dangers before it can pass over populated islands.

The first test, set for July 1, requires better weather than the second. If the first should be long delayed, Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy is expected to order the second test, an underwater explosion in Bikini lagoon. In that case the underwater A-bomb test will be the only one this summer.

Will the atom bomb start a typhoon here, where the majority of the Pacific's typhoons originate?

No reliable weatherman thinks that it will, but meteorologists can't say definitely that the bomb will not start one.

Correspondents were given the available facts today. Most important is that the typhoons that start here never move toward the American coast. They invariably move towards the Philippines and the northward, where they dissipate in the Aleutians.

At the start they are not the murderous winds that make these storms to be feared. So, if the atom bomb were to start a typhoon, it would in no way endanger the 200 ships and thousands of men involved in the atomic test.

Spain Still On Agenda Of Council

Long Argument Grows Out of Proposals on Spanish Question by Britain, Australia

Session Is Stormy

Bitterness Develops in Security Council Over Actions

New York, June 27 (AP)—Delegates to the United Nations Security Council were agreed today, after a confused and acrimonious debate, that the Spanish issue remains on the agenda and that the veto has become an over-powering weapon in their deliberations.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko demonstrated that any question brought before the council can be knocked out by the single vote of any one of the "Big Five" permanent members. He wielded the veto three times last night on British-Australian proposals concerning the Spanish question.

After the council's longest and bitterest session adjourned at 9 p. m. (E.D.T.), Australian Foreign Minister Herbert V. Evatt, who served as chairman of the council subcommittee which investigated Spain, summed up the situation produced out of the confusion by saying:

"The Spanish issue, by unrecorded agreement, remains unsettled before the council for revival at the command of any member at any time, and

The council remains committed to "moral condemnation" of the Franco regime.

Evatt challenged the validity of the method by which the veto was exercised in unprecedented fashion by Gromyko and declared the debate lasting five hours and 48 minutes constituted a "scandal."

British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan, in a United Nations "Charter Day" speech broadcast to the empire last night, criticized the veto power and said it would force the U.N. into an "all or nothing policy." His speech was prepared well in advance of last night's council session.

Throughout the protracted argument, in which Gromyko raised the question of parliamentary courtesy in a clash with Council President Francisco Castillo Najera, of Mexico, the details of the Spanish issue were almost completely overshadowed.

The Soviet delegate engaged in running arguments chiefly with Evatt and Castillo Najera and used the vote to kill a resolution and a separate amendment on which he had been outvoted by the majority.

Situation Develops

It developed like this: The delegates of Australia, Britain and Poland were named as a committee on Monday to compose the differences between a Francoist Spain and a British amendment to keep the Spanish question on the agenda until the General Assembly meets September 3 and to recognize the assembly's right to act on Spain.

There is no veto power in the assembly. Russia and Poland have attacked majority-approved proposals on Spain as "too weak."

Unable to agree with Polish Delegate Oscar Lange on a compromise resolution, Evatt and Cadogan yesterday offered their own committee majority proposal to keep the Spanish issue indefinitely in the council "without prejudice to the rights of the general assembly."

The British-Australian resolution

Company "A" will be under command of Captain Charles L. Arnold and Company "B" First Lieutenant Stephen Hyatt. Captain Richard F. Riseley will command Headquarters Detachment.

During their tour of field duty the local units will engage in rifle and machine gun fire on the range and will also be instructed in chemical warfare, grenade, bayonet and other special training as well as engage in tactical training of various nature.

An advance detachment left today for Camp Smith to draw rations, equipment and supplies for the main body which will arrive Friday. The detachment from headquarters was under command of

Government Adds To Cost of Coffee

Three to Four Cents Each Pound Approved by Chester Bowles

Washington, June 27 (AP)—The government today added an increase of 3 to 4 cents a pound for coffee to a steadily growing list of price boosts for dinner table items.

Stabilization Director Chester Bowles approved the higher prices, and O.P.A. said they will go into effect within a week—as soon as the exact amount of the retail increase is calculated.

In authorizing the price hike last night, Bowles said the purpose was to encourage importation of green coffee from Latin America. To this end, exporters will get two cents more a pound. Importers' duties are being raised 2.075 cents a pound.

For housewives, the coffee price boost comes close on the heels of increases on such important market basket items as milk, bread, butter, cheese and breakfast cereals. And meat prices went up not long ago.

Bowles said the State Department had long urged that returns to the coffee-producing countries be increased due to higher production costs. He said he had agreed to the increases "with the greatest reluctance."

Bowles also announced that the present subsidy of three cents a pound paid to domestic importers will be continued, provided the O.P.A. extension bill now pending in congress maintains authority to make such payments.

If it becomes necessary to eliminate the coffee subsidy, retail prices will go up another four or five cents, officials estimated.

Inter-American Action To Protect Copyrights

Representatives of the American Republics meeting in conference at the Pan American Union, have signed an inter-American convention on copyright protection. The conference had been in session since June 1st and was convened pursuant to a resolution of the eighth international conference of American states held at Lima, Peru.

The convention recognizes the exclusive right of an author of a literary, scientific, and artistic work to use and transfer his work in any manner, and to transmit it by will or by operation of interest laws.

The works covered include books and pamphlets; written or recorded versions of lectures, addresses and sermons; dramatic or dramatic-musical works; choreographic works; and pantomimes; musical compositions; drawings; illustrations, paintings, sculptures, engravings, lithographs; photographic and cinematographic works; globes, maps, plans and sketches or plastic works relating to geography, geology, topography, architecture, or any science.

Translations, adaptations, or other versions of literary, scientific and artistic works, including photographic and cinematographic adaptations, are protected as original works.

Articles on current events in newspapers and magazines may, by the terms of the convention, be reproduced by the press unless such reproduction is prohibited by a specific or general reservation. The convention does not give protection to the factual contents of news published in newspapers.

Power Is Voted

New York June 27 (AP)—The city planning commission has voted itself the power to consider applications for new bus terminals or enlargement of existing ones in traffic-congested areas, despite protests voiced by civic groups at a hearing June 12. However, in action of the commission, taken yesterday in a 5-2 vote for a resolution giving itself the new authority, still must be approved by the board of estimate. A few weeks ago the commission rejected a proposal which would have closed certain congested traffic areas to future bus terminals. This step led the Port of New York Authority to drop plans for a $50,000,000 union bus terminal at 40th street west of 8th avenue.

Mortality Rate Increases

London, June 27 (AP)—The mortality rate in Vienna in 1945 was treble that of 1930 and twice as many people died last year as in the war year 1944. European headquarters of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration reported today. The report said the suicide rate had "increased dangerously." Compared with 670 in 1943 and 408 in 1919, there were 1,723 suicides reported in 1945. Infant mortality has increased fourfold since the beginning of the war.

New Paltz Honors Veterans July 4

Memorable Event Foreseen With 400 Veterans There

The Veterans' Home-Coming celebration in New Paltz July 4th is expected to be a memorable event, in honor of the veterans of World War 2. It is expected that almost 400 veterans from New Paltz, Gardiner, Clinton, Modena, Ardona and Rifton will be honored.

The day's events have been arranged by a general committee from the following organizations: Sullivan-Shafer Post No. 176, American Legion; Huguenot Grange; New Paltz Fire Department; New Paltz Rod and Gun Club; the Paltz Club, Gordon Pine is general chairman, D. V. Z. Bogert, mayor of New Paltz and Supervisor Frank G. Elliott are honorary co-chairmen.

There will be a parade starting at 10:30 a. m., with over 25 units participating, including the fire departments from New Paltz, Gardiner, Clinton, Modena, Ardona and Rifton; the 4-H Club from Rifton; at least three floats; a bicycle brigade and a mounted unit.

The dedication of a memorial will follow the parade. The Hon. Jay Le Fevre, M. C., from the 30th Congressional District, will deliver the address.

A steak dinner will be served immediately after the dedication in a large tent on the Coe Lot on Plattkill avenue, under the direction of James Slack of Newburgh. Dan Warren is chairman of the dinner committee and William T. Burke will preside at the guests' table.

The baseball game between New Paltz and Highland will start at 3 p. m. It will be played at the college field, made available through the courtesy of Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of Teachers' College.

The principal feature of the block party at night will be the Pontiac 1946 automobile which Wesley Van Vliet is securing for the American Legion. Peter Harp is chairman of this committee, while Alvin Beatty is in charge of the arrangements for the block party. Music for dancing will be furnished by Sal Castiglione of Kingston.

An appeal is being made for funds to cover the cost of the celebration, estimated at $3,000. To date the fund has passed the $2,500 mark and Henry W. DuBois, treasurer, has expressed confidence that the goal will be reached. Almost a third of the fund is for the memorial, which will include a bronze tablet with the names of the veterans from New Paltz who served in World War 2 and a huge 15-ton stone, set on a plot of ground deeded by the directors of the Huguenot National Bank. At the time of dedication a temporary list of names will be posted in a frame in front of the stone.

Teachers to Visit Kingston July 26

On Travel Course State Teachers College

The annual travel course sponsored by the State Teachers College summer session will bring a group of 15 students to Kingston on July 26 to tour the city and visit places of historical interest. Announcement of the visit was made by Secretary Don Williams of the Chamber of Commerce, who said the group would be under the direction of Dorothy Harris of Ontario.

The Teachers College gives regular credit for the annual excursion, which is designed to acquaint the future teachers with the reasons why New York is called the Empire State.

The July 26 trek starts at Ontario and will proceed along Route 28 through Delhi and Andes. It will include a visit to the old sustaining industries of the early settlements in the Catskills, the present industries, the Ashokan reservoir and a complete inspection tour of Kingston.

The itinerary for July 27 includes a visit to old Hurley, with its old stone houses; Marbletown; Stone Ridge; Rosendale, with its old covered bridge; New Paltz, with Huguenot street and its early stone houses; Highland; Poughkeepsie; Hyde Park; and a visit to the Roosevelt estate; Rhinebeck; Kingston; Saugerties; West Camp and the old Palatine settlement there; Catskill, Coxsack and the Knauts mushroom plants.

The SIGHTS You'll See! ...on your 4th of July trip

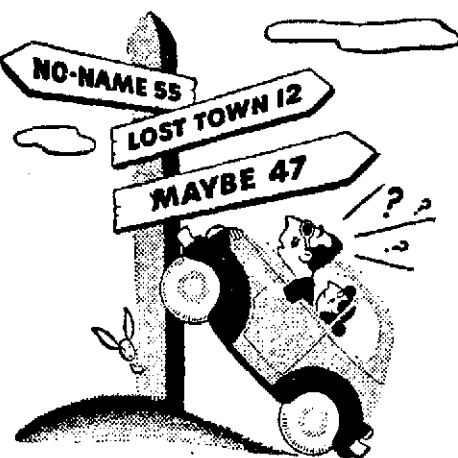

G. WASHINGTON SLIPPED HERE

G. (Gracie, not George) should have had those tires Safety-Checked, before the trip. A Veedol Safety-Check Lubrication includes expert inspection of tires, headlights, steering linkage—altogether, 18 vital points where car troubles often start.

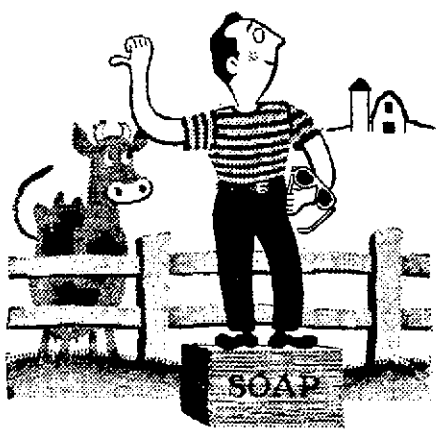

HISTORIC BATTLE FOUGHT HERE

Jones vs. motor-trouble, and Jones is losing. Next time he'll fill the crankcase with Improved Veedol Motor Oil. It is more than a match for summer heat and dust!

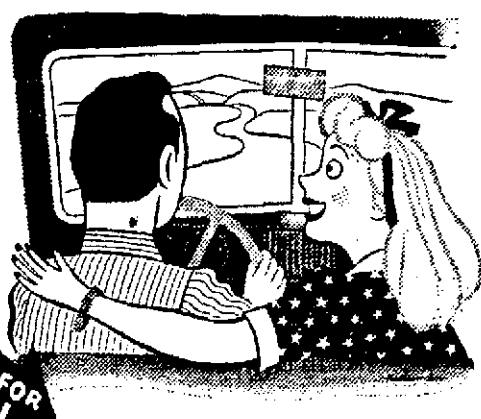

SWELL SCENERY!

But where's that vacation spot? Being lost is a heck of a way to spend the holiday. It's much easier to ask the Tydol dealer about local routes, short cuts and road conditions.

NOT A STATUE

...just the fellow who ran out of gas, hitch-hiking to the nearest Tydol Station. So unnecessary—when Tydol dealers all along the way have plenty of power-packed Flying-A Gasoline.

SMOOTH SAILING AHEAD!

Of course, you saw your Tydol dealer first. Your tank is full of Flying-A...the gasoline of smooth, smooth power! You got Tydol Vacation Safety-Check Service before starting, too. And your car is in great shape for a safe trip. Happy holidays to you!

Here's the man who gives you that VACATION SAFETY-CHECK SERVICE

Your Tydol dealer reminds you that there are millions of cars riding the vacation highways this year—and most of these cars are over eight years old. Before you start, give your car the complete Tydol Safety-Check treatment. Then stop in at Tydol dealers' along the way. And please—drive carefully!

1. TYDOL FLYING-A GASOLINE

Every drop packed with true Tydol quality. Smooth! Powerful!

2. IMPROVED VEEDOL MOTOR OIL

Gives your motor extra protection against summer heat and dust. Same 100% Pennsylvania quality—now finer than ever.

3. VEEDOL SAFETY-CHECK LUBRICATION

Includes, at no extra cost, expert inspection of 18 vital points where many car troubles start.

4. LOCAL INFORMATION SERVICE

All Tydol dealers "keep posted" for you. Ask 'em about short cuts, road conditions, eating places, sleeping accommodations. They're glad to help!

Commencement At Grahamsville

Ten Receive Diplomas in Consolidated Districts

Ten graduates received diplomas at the first commencement exercises of Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Towns of Newburgh, Sullivan county and Denning and Wawarsing in Ulster county, at Memorial Hall in Grahamsville, June 22.

Mrs. Katherine St. George, president of the Tuxedo Board of Education, spoke on "Home, School and Community Cooperation" before a large audience. Mrs. St. George has long been interested in education and her interesting talk was well received.

The program was as follows: March, "Country Gardens", Grainger. Invocation, the Rev. John Carter. Salutatory, Mario Costa. "One Glorious Day", Roy Kortright. Address "Home, School and Community Cooperation", Mrs. George B. St. George. "Commencement Time", pupils of Aden School. "Mileposts", Hallie Sackett. Valedictory, Joan Merigliano. Presentation of awards and diplomas, Dr. Karl Messinger. Benediction, the Rev. Milton Harris. March, "Herald of Peace", Miss Evelyn Prince was at the organ.

Gene Ross, new supervising principal of the district, was present and was introduced to the audience.

Consolidated District No. 1 voted recently to create itself into a Union Free School District which will be organized early in July.

Chemist Wants U. S. Help

Paul Gloess, French chemist, has a new process for treating marine plants of the algae family so that iodine and alginates can be obtained simultaneously. He wants to arrange with some American chemical company, according to the United States embassy in Paris, to build a pilot plant off the coast of Brittany for treatment of fresh algae. He would supply his technical knowledge while the American interests would furnish capital and any equipment not available in France.

New Volcano Doubtful

Another new volcano has been reported by residents near Tehuacan, Puebla, in Mexico, but scientists are skeptical until geologists have thoroughly investigated the scene and reported subterranean noises and other disturbances. Farmers have been burning off land in the Tehuacan district for planting after the rains and these fires, tied in with thunder claps, are thought to have frightened the peasants into reporting a volcano.

The first commercial orchard of prunes was planted in California in 1870.

TECHNIQUE FOR PEACE

Norman Corwin, winner of the first Wendell Willkie "One World" prize award, in a speech before the American Booksellers Association, said that what we need in order to realize Wendell Willkie's concept of One World is a technique. He pointed out that tyrants have always owed their temporary success to well-thought-out plans, which they stuck to like grim death. They had immense energy and staying power. He went on:

"If tyranny has employed superb techniques, why, then, haven't democracy, peace, unity and freedom? Why doesn't such a universally attractive idea as One World enjoy superb technicians?"

"The answer is that it has, and that in growing measure it will continue to. But in the past the technicians of social good have been too few, the support of them too shallow, their lives, alas, too brief."

Chief among those who think universally he lists the artists—painters, poets, playwrights and novelists—because to be great their work must come close to the heart of humanity, and this heart beats with the same rhythm everywhere in the world. They must apply their understanding of human nature to other matters than their work itself. He added:

"Any man, especially the artist, who never takes sides, who never votes, never signs a petition, never speaks his mind, is a civic drone. Panics, depressions and wars come to him like weather."

Perhaps there is hope for the world, in spite of all the gloomy prophecies. But it will remain just a hope unless people are willing to put into its realization the same quiet, intelligent determination that goes into developing such techniques as that of the artist, the musician, the inventor of a new and useful machine.

VETERANS AND SHOPS

Veterans are interested in household appliance and radio shops. The U. S. Department of Commerce, studying 7,000 inquiries from former service men, has found that almost half of them want to become retailers in these two lines. Most of the rest were interested in wholesaling and manufacturing while the smallest group wanted to go into building and transportation.

Can it be that household appliances and radios symbolized home to the servicemen on faraway oceans and battlefields? Or was it that his wife's letters made him conscious of a great demand for radios and appliances? Now that he's back, these enterprises look mighty good to him.

ONE WAY TO DO IT

In Spokane, Wash., they've learned how to stop speeding. On a highway where motorists heretofore have been whizzing, traffic policemen recently discovered to their amazement that there was a startling slow up in the speed of passing cars. Investigation provided the answer. A crude sign, lettered "Beware! Speed Cop hiding," was seen by drivers. The police are thinking of leaving the sign up.

HELPING THEMSELVES

On the theory that self-help is better than philanthropy, residents of eight industrial and congested Chicago areas have been mobilized to stamp out juvenile delinquency and parental irresponsibility. Community groups operating for themselves and their own children run clubs and recreation halls, send children to summer camps, manage adult education classes, help to rehabilitate probationed and paroled persons, organize tavern hall keepers and generally help to keep adults and youths out of trouble.

The idea, developed several years ago, is receiving new emphasis this year when juvenile delinquency poses added problems. Hundreds of volunteer workers have been organized in these neighborhoods.

The citizens raise all money needed, including that for salaries of paid workers. From one Polish neighborhood numbering

INDEX NUMBERS

Statisticians have devised a formula for making statistical data comparatively true by the use of the index number. Few laymen understand index numbers and no housewife buys meat with them, but to the statistician they are positive proof that what in reality is, beyond doubt, cannot be true if the index number shows the opposite. That is why it was possible on an American's Town Meeting of the Air for Leon Henderson to issue conclusions based on index numbers which Fulton Lewis, Jr., challenged as bunk. Lewis was thinking in terms of market prices; Henderson in terms of index numbers.

The point is, what date is the base? The statisticians fix a date, say the year 1935, or a 1935-1939 average, or for that matter, any date they wish to use to prove a point. By shifting the date fixed as 100, they move up and down. If the 1935-9 average price for cars is 100 and 1946 cars are up 12 points, then the 1946 index will be 112.

But go and get one. That makes the index number a phony because to get that car you have to slip the salesman or a friend of the dealer a couple of hundred bucks; maybe you have to give him 2-1 that Conn would defeat Louis or that you can spit farther than he can or that your old man could have beaten his old man pitching horseshoes had they both not died twenty years ago. To him, it is a gimmick; to you, it is part of the price.

So you want to know how come that when you look at the government-prepared index numbers, upon which the advertising agent, Chester Bowles, bases all his vociferations, you see a figure that is unrelated to any fact you can discover for yourself. The answer is very simple: the government is honest and legitimate and does not take into account human nature. You remember, if you're old enough, how in the days of Prohibition the government took the position that there was no gin because it was against the law. Then when they discovered that there was gin and it was a big industry, along with whiskey, wine and all the trimmings, they were quite surprised. And when they found that many public officials were making a big thing out of rum-running and hijacking and bootlegging, it knocked them cold.

It is like that with statisticians. They deal with the law, not with the facts. When you used to go into a butcher shop, when there still used to be meat, and the butcher weighed in his hard-pressed thumb, you paid what the index number did not show. Also, if you did not pay that way, you had as little to show as the index number.

Also, the index number only deals with honest-to-goodness, legitimate houses which are being watched by the O.P.A., the F.B.I. and the statisticians. They would not associate, socially or statistically, with the Black Market boys who do most of the business these days on the legitimate, if not legal, theory that the law of supply and demand will function as long as human nature remains what it has been for many thousands of years.

So, the index number really shows what should be if everybody were honest and law-abiding and accepted the base that the statisticians say proves everything. It is unfortunate that everybody is not so very good nor even naive. It is too bad that if a fellow knows where he can get a steak for his family, he forgets all about Chester Bowles and the index number and he goes and grabs the steak.

It is when he suffers the dyspepsia of the untrue to the Bureau of Labor Statistics to lay down a steak at $1.50 a pound, more or less, including a thumb that can't be eaten and a pair of nylons for the butcher's sweetheart. But it is too late then. So he reads some index numbers and says to himself:

"The dirty robbers! Look what they took me for!"

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

IMPORTANCE OF THE MOUTH

Dr. Wm. Osler our greatest modern physician stated that as more than half the diseases of man came by way of the mouth more time and thought should be devoted to the condition of the mouth and means of keeping it healthy.

When buying a horse the purchaser always looks into the horse's mouth not only to tell its age but to judge its general health. Today physicians and dentists look into the mouth of their patients to learn the condition of the teeth, gums and tonsils because the condition of these mouth structures can be affected by some local condition of the mouth, or some general or systemic condition of the body. In turn the condition of the structures in the mouth, teeth, gums, tonsils—can affect structures in distant parts of the body by such conditions as heart, blood pressure, kidney and gall bladder diseases.

Because the condition of the mouth is so important to the general health of the individual medical and dental schools, especially where connected with a university, try to give as much time and training in anatomy, physiology (normal body processes) and pathology (abnormal body processes) to a combined class of medical and dental students. In the Kentucky Medical Journal, Dr. John T. O'Rourke (University of Louisville) states that "no common area in medicine and dentistry is associated with such enduring results as that of child health and nutrition." By working together physicians and dentists not only help to prevent decay of teeth in children but by study of foods and their effect on body structures they aid in proper development of teeth and jaws.

While artificial dentures are important in the chewing of food, even the best artificial denture is only 25 per cent as efficient as natural teeth from the standpoint of usefulness, although artificial dentures do not affect the taste as much as was formerly thought. Generally speaking the dental problem of childhood and youth is decay (caries); that of middle age and later age is disease of the gums and loss of teeth.

18,000 people. $12,000 was raised last year to send several hundred of their children to their own summer camp in Indiana. In one south side district with a 150,000 Negro population, a budget of $25,000 is being raised locally with some help from the community fund which these citizens last year oversubscribed by $5,000.

The Chicago plan might well be studied by other cities and towns. The American heritage is such that American citizens prefer to run their own shows. It's true when the issues are local reform—or anything else. It's only when local methods and energies fail that centralized help is needed.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Staking Saves Garden Space and Plants

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

STAKING is a means of growing more plants in less space, and this applies to flowers as well as vegetables.

If, however, you plan to use stakes as first aid for certain plants, place them before you plant the seed or set out the plants, since the roots of the plants may be badly injured if the stakes are driven into the ground after the plants have become established. This applies especially to perennials which may grow tall and spravely.

Do not bunch the foliage together when tying up a plant. Tie the branches to the stake with soft twine or raffia, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

If the stake has been "rotated" alongside a tall growing stalk, make a loop of the tape or cord around the stake first. Then, loop the tape or cord around the plant and then bring it back to the stake. This double method of tying furnishes a loop in which the plant can stand upright without being bruised or pinched. The knot should be tied against the stake, as illustrated, and not against the plant stalk.

Do not use wire or hard string for tying, as they are apt to cut the soft stem of the plant. Raffia, soft twine or cloth tape are the best materials to use.

In a wet season staking may mean the difference between success or failure with certain tall growing plants.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The bronze tablet commemorating the rebuilding of the city hall, which had been authorized by the Common Council, was received and installed in the main corridor of the building in May, 1930.

The tablet bears the names of the city officials headed by Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, Aldermen-at-large C. Ray Everett, Aldermen Fred M. Dressel, Paul A. Zucca, Ray Haines, Zach Hermance, John Moynaux, Henry Fox, Sam N. Mann, Alexander Ostrander, Leo W. Clare, James T. O'Reilly, Charles Burger, Abram D. Relyea, John Hull and Bernard Reilly.

The names of the building committee are also listed. They are Mayor Dempsey and President Ray Everett and Aldermen Mann and Haines.

The tablet also bears the names of City Judge Augustus Shufeldt, City Historian A. C. Clearwater, City Clerk George W. Moore, Corporation Counsel Harry H. Flemming, City Treasurer Edgar T. Shullis, and City Assessor Charles Laid.

The names of the architects are also included. They are George E. Lewis, Gerard W. Betz and Myron S. Teller.

On the bottom of the tablet are the words: "This building was erected 1873; partly destroyed by fire 1927; reconstructed 1929."

On June 14, 1930, Mayor Dempsey and Judge A. T. Clearwater officially opened the new Senate House Museum on the Senate House grounds. The ceremonies were brief, consisting of a short dedication delivered by Judge Clearwater, city historian, and the raising of the flag of the state of New York.

One of the oldest barbers in years of service in Kingston is William S. Skelton, and the other day I read a clipping of June 24, 1930, which told how he had removed his barbershop from the McMillan building at the Strand and Hasbrouck avenue.

The business was established in 1865 by Mr. Skelton's father, the late James R. Skelton, a Civil War veteran, on his return to the city at the close of the Civil War. The business began in a building at the intersection of Ferry street and East Strand where it was located for half a century until the building was taken down.

Following the death of Mr. Skelton's father, the business was carried on by the son, and when it was decided to demolish the building on Ferry street and Strand, the son moved the shop to the McMillan building, where it remained until 1930, when Mr. Skelton opened up a new shop in the old Mansion House building where he is still located.

Mr. Skelton has been engaged in the barber business for more than half a century. The genial barber has lived in Ponckhockie all his life.

Calvin Forst died in his home on Grove street on June 9, 1930. He had been a resident of Ponckhockie for many years, and for 29 years he was manager of the local Armour and Co. beef packing plant on Dedrick street.

Mr. Forst during the many years he was engaged in the wholesale meat business became widely and favorably known. Fraternally he was a member of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Unions Are Blamed for Killing O.P.A. by Forcing Up Costs Through Wage Demands

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 27—These are days of strange paradoxes. Labor union leaders are crying out that the O.P.A. must be "saved," when the truth is that labor union strategy in major industrial has virtually killed the O.P.A. and brought on an unparalleled wave of inflation.

The moment one economic group in the community insisted on forcing up costs and threatened to paralyze production and distribution unless its wage demands were met and the moment the president of the United States failed to hold the scales even and granted wage-cost increases, the death knell of effective price control in America was sounded.

The form in which the O.P.A. is now continued is secondary. The effect of the amendments made to pending legislation is to permit producers to add wage costs to their prices. So all the hullabaloo about "saving the O.P.A." is academic. Price control for all practical purposes has been killed by the President of the United States through his policy of wage inflation.

The country reads only what Congress is doing at present. The defenders of the O.P.A. program are criticizing Congress and stirring up a propaganda from coast to coast to give the impression that chaos will result if the O.P.A. is killed. There was a time quite recently when many observers, including this correspondent, believed that runaway inflation might follow the abolition of the O.P.A. But the events which the nation has witnessed on the labor front, where wage costs were officially boosted by the White House and prices necessarily increased, make the O.P.A. and price control of much less importance.

The O.P.A. should, of course, be retained but only as part of a national program of fighting inflation by freezing wage costs. But the President is too timid about restraining the labor front from forcing runaway prices, and he has thus contributed by his policy to the inflationary trend.

Hence O. P. A. cannot prevent the price level from rising any more. The "black markets" which are flourishing might have been broken up by a sensible program combining wage and price control. The effort to increase production by means of subsidies has not been as effective as its sponsors predicted. Shortages are still prevalent.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Berlin, June 27 (AP)—American housewife dependents in Germany, better off in most ways than their sisters at home, are facing a bobby pin crisis.

"We just can't find them anywhere," the ladies wail.

Bobby pins are one of several small shortages that have developed in recent weeks, since army wives arrived to undertake the strange adventure of housekeeping in a foreign land.

"I have a thousand dollar rug on my floor and a $600 set of china in my cupboard," said one wife, "but I'd give my eye teeth for some waxed paper and a good old fashioned American mop."

"And for some real cleansing powder—I don't know what I wouldn't give for that."

She and other wives have found their new life full of unaccustomed luxury and minor but annoying shortages.

They come into requisitioned German homes full of expensive furniture, but bare of curtains and sometimes empty of table lamps.

Usually there is much to be done in the way of plumbing and window pane repair. Most families have to share their residence during daylight hours with crews of German painters and plasterers.

Battered Berlin has been a source of much amazement to young American children. One mother said that when she and her small son first arrived, he kept gazing in wonder and exclaiming: "Look at all that damage, mamma!"

"Now," she said, "when he sees a house in good condition, he asks: 'Why isn't that one blown down?'"

In terms of food these dependents are one of the best off classes in the world.

"We can buy an entire ocean butter and steak we can possibly eat at the army commissary," said one wife. "We are really better off in that way than we were in America."

The wives have also gained additional leisure, since most households have two or three German servants—normally a housekeeper, a scrub woman and a gardener. One woman is taking advantage of this extra spare time by gratifying a lifelong desire to learn how to play the piano.

Fleets of fresh milk is available for children at the army commissaries, which does a half million dollar business a month. Fresh vegetables from allied and neutral countries will be stocked shortly.

At another store wives can buy luxury items such as radios, electric irons and tinned lobster, shrimp, sandwich spreads and olives.

Cigarettes buy pet dogs from German owners unable to feed them.

"For three cartons of cigarettes I got a pedigree German shepherd that would have cost at least $500 in the states," said one young wife.

A captain who has helped billeted 22 families advises wives that it is now necessary to bring home only clothing and personal possessions as the army can supply them with all the needed housekeeping items within a short period after their arrival.

"Ninety per cent of the wives who've come over so far have been wonderfully understanding," he said, "but some of the other 10 per cent have been a real headache. They insist on having the best of everything—and sometimes it just isn't available."

SHANDAKEN

Shandaken, June 26—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Todd of Frattsville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Townsend last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crispell of Buffalo spent a week here recently visiting old friends. Mr. Crispell is a son of the late Herbert Crispell of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Waters have gone to Denver, called there by the death of Mrs. Water's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dewey of Endicott and Mr. and Mrs. William Mann of Breakabeen were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Townsend.

R. Steele Sherratt of the Winthrop Chemical Co. is on an extended business trip to California. There will be a turkey supper at the church hall Saturday evening, 6 to 7 o'clock.

Kassan Miller is spending a few days with his brother, Harry Miller in Roxbury.

Henry Heick visited New York city early in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard and Mr. and Mrs. Foulkes of Bronxville were guests of Mrs. R. Steele Sherratt over the week-end.

The Swiss were the first to use nickel for coins.

Garbage Boils Bothers

Live mortar bombs recently were discovered in refuse about to be shoveled into London garbage incinerator furnaces. Had they not been found the furnaces would have been wrecked and casualties would have been inevitable. Former Mt. Marion Pastor to Broadcast

The Rev. Harvey B. Hoffman, former pastor of the Mt. Marion and High Woods Reformed Churches, will be the speaker on the "Church of the Air" program over the coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Sunday morning, July 7.

10 Persons Killed

Athens, June 27 (AP)—The ministry of public order announced today that 10 persons have been killed in recent clashes involving armed bands of the extreme left and right. Four persons were slain, the ministry asserted, when 300 leftists attacked a village near Larissa in northern Greece, set fire to 19 houses and looted many others. Near Volos on the Greek east coast, the announcement declared, a band of rightists killed six people in raids on two villages.

Resort Prices Studied
Heavy fines for profiteering will be imposed on resort owners in Mexico who overcharge tourists, both native and foreign, the State Department at Mexico City announced. Orders have been given to inspectors throughout the country to watch the prices being charged at resorts.

Two Men Killed As Plane Crashes

Plane Seemed to Fall to Pieces in Air

Wilton, Conn., June 27 (AP)—Two men were killed when a light plane crashed in a lot in the Skunk lane district about three miles north of Wilton Center late yesterday.

State Police Sergeant Edmund Flannigan and George Ferris of the Westport Barracks, who investigated, said the dead were Fred Osborne of (Keller road) Old Greenwich, the pilot, and Edward Sorenson, 35, of (375 Fairfield avenue) Stamford. Flannigan quoted unidentified witnesses as saying the plane "seemed to fall to pieces in the air."

Dr. Robert McMahon, Wilton medical examiner, after pronouncing the two men dead, gave permission for the removal of their bodies.

State police and State Aviation Commission Agents are investigating. The state policemen said the plane was identified as an Army Trainer AT-6 and was flying in a southerly direction when it crumpled in the air. They said the plane was the property of the Sorenson Company of Stamford, but could not say immediately whether the Sorenson who was killed was an official of the company. They identified Osborne as a licensed pilot and Sorenson as a student pilot. They said the plane's home field was Westchester Airport at Armonk, N. Y.

that day will bear the words, "Atom Bomb Test, Bikini." Lt. Paul A. Hunt, Fort Collins, Colo., in charge of Bikini's fleet post office, expects about 200,000 letters to be mailed. It is likely that the entire day's output will become collectors' items.

Little Girl Bitten

Carol Krusher, 2 1/2 years old, of 61 Newkirk avenue, was bitten on the left wrist by a dog last night, according to a police report. The wound was treated at the Kingston Hospital.

PENNEY'S SUMMER DRESS CARNIVAL

BY POPULAR DEMAND!
MORE! MORE! MORE!

Striped Cottons

3.98 to 7.90

It took some doing to get them—but we've managed a big, beautiful collection to replace last week's sell-out! More crinkle crepes, seersuckers, chambrays.... everything from dress-ups to sports styles. Sizes for misses, women, juniors.

IT'S HERE!..The Greatest Suds Discovery in 2000 Years!

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S dreft
BRINGS YOU
FASTER, BRIGHTER, SAFER CLEANING
THAN ANY SUDS
BEFORE IN HISTORY!

Dishes Shine Without Wiping!

It's a Fact! No soap in the world performs the miracles Dreft performs in your dishpan. It makes dishes shine—even without wiping! No Streaks! Dreft's amazing suds rinse clean and clear—leave no greasy streaks or cloudiness the way all soaps do. Even glasses sparkle without touching a towel to them. And Dreft is kind to hands!

dreft

Works Wonders no Soap in the World can Match!

- No Soap-Fading! Now you can wash stockings, lingerie, woollens—knowing that with Dreft there's no cloudy film to cause soap-fading!
- Dishes Shine—Even Without Wiping! With Dreft no dish towel is needed for wiping or polishing. Dishes and glasses fairly sparkle.
- Instant Suds—More Suds! In cool water, in hardest water—Dreft suds billow up instantly. And Dreft suds last so long!

AT YOUR DEALER'S
The demand for Dreft is tremendous. If your dealer is out of Dreft ask again—there will be more Dreft soon.

Stockings

Wear Longer! Look Lovelier Than With Any Soap!

You'll be delighted at Dreft's gentleness to stockings! Dreft suds leave no soapy film to heavy-up hose and cloud their beauty. Colors stay fresh far longer than with any soap. What's more—nightly Dreft-washing prolongs stocking life—gives noticeably longer wear!

New Woolens

Wash Softer, Fluffier Than Ever Before!

When washed in Dreft suds your precious new woolens are a joy to look at—a delight to feel! No soapy deposit to coarsen woolens and dim their colors. Your lovely new sweaters and baby things wash softer and fluffier than with even the most expensive soap flakes!

Lingerie

Stays Brighter and Fresher! No Soap-Fading!

It's the greatest suds discovery in 2000 years! Your lovely lingerie stays color-bright and fresh far longer when washed with Dreft. There's no film to cause soap-fading. Dreft's rich suds keep your pretty slips, blouses, "undies" fresher than any soap could ever do.

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S PATENTED SUDS DISCOVERY

Corn on the cob again! But where are we to get the pots of butter to go with it?

Daughter—Shall I take an umbrella and mail this letter. Mother dear?

Mother—Stay right in this house! This night isn't fit for a dog to be out in. Let your father post the letter.

The Why of the Weather

Snow days are cloudy and dark. Some days, of course, are lighter; but it takes the shadows, my friend.

To make the sunshine brighter, R. Wesley Carr

Two fellows were walking home from a party, when one stopped and looked at this sign in a store window:

"Eskimo Spitz Dogs—$5 apiece"

First Man (Staring in the window)—Most unusual! Jimmy, I'll bet you $5 they can't do it.

Play Safe

From collar to attic—Keep things systematic.

Crusty Customer—How come you always put your biggest potatoes on top of the baskets?

Grocer—For the same reason that you comb your longest hairs over that bald spot on your head.

Troubles of a Husband

I'll never be able to fathom my wife.

Oh that I'm quite sure there's no doubt.

Just when I've made up my mind to stay in.

She made up her face to go out.

A lot of people get credit for being well-behaved who haven't the money to be otherwise.

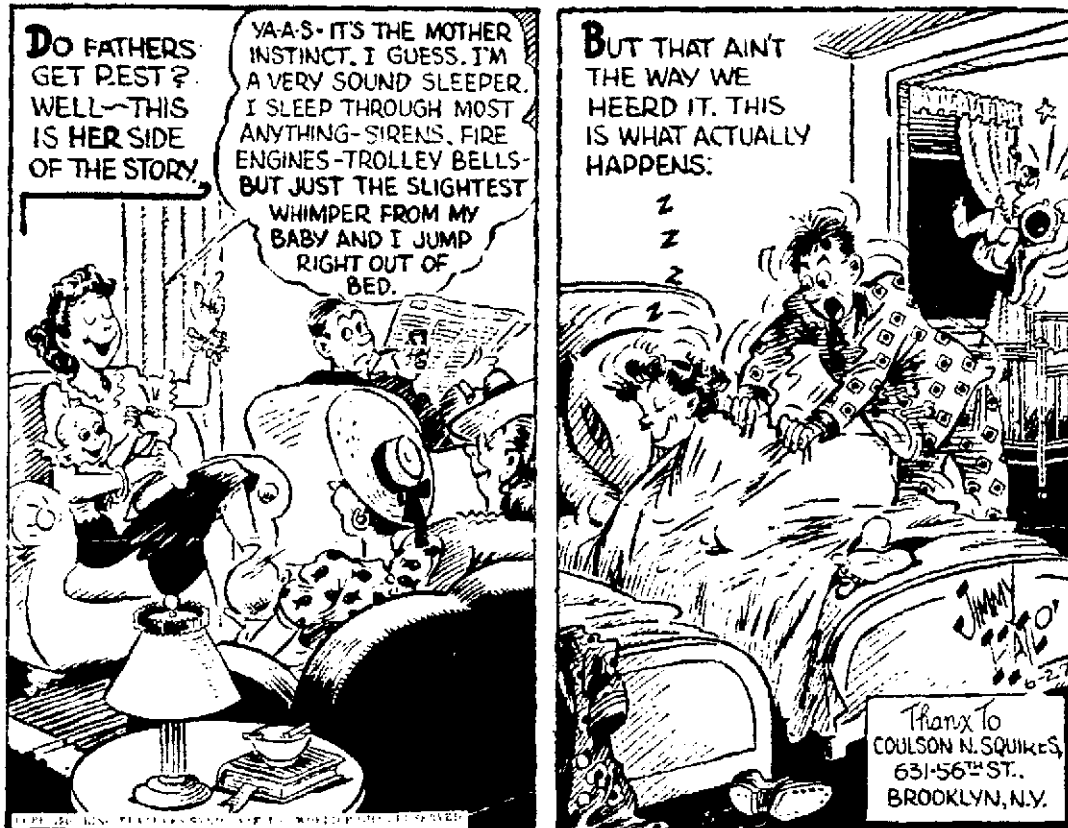

Son—Dad, what was your ambition when you were a boy?

Dad—To wear long pants, my son.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By Jimmy Hatlo

Do fathers get rest? Well—this is her side of the story.

YAA-S-IT'S THE MOTHER INSTINCT, I GUESS. I'M A VERY SOUND SLEEPER. I SLEEP THROUGH MOST ANYTHING—SIRENS, FIRE ENGINES—TROLLEY BELLS—BUT JUST THE SLIGHTEST WHIMPER FROM MY BABY AND I JUMP RIGHT OUT OF BED.

BUT THAT AIN'T THE WAY WE HEARD IT. THIS IS WHAT ACTUALLY HAPPENS:

boy, and I've got my wish. If there's anybody in this country that wears pants longer than I do, I'd like to see him.

Questionnaire!!

Why don't girls who like to diet Ever do it on the quiet?

Beatrice Lieben, in Liberty

Don't call yourself a man until you have weathered the frowns of fortune. Adversity makes more cowards than conscience does.

Captain—Have you cleaned the deck and polished the brass?

Sailor—Yes, sir, and I've swept the horizon with my good, old, trusty telescope.

Cook cauliflower quickly to preserve the flavor. Use an uncovered kettle and place the vegetable in boiling water.

Ford Loses Round

Albany, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—The Ford Motor Company lost another round today in a test case involving constitutionality of a New York state law requiring employers to give workers time off to vote in a general election. The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court upheld, 4-1, a conviction against the company, returned several months ago by an Albany county jury.

Business Certificate

Dora Ross, Julius Rosalsky and Abraham Ross of Ulster Heights have filed a certificate with the county clerk stating they are doing business at Ulster Heights under the name and style of Paradise Inn and Bungalows.

Dewey Says Fight For Better Things Being Won in State

Searsdale, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says the fight for better education and living conditions is "being won on many fronts in this state."

But he cautions that "the effort must be ceaseless."

He made the assertions last night as he spoke at a cornerstone-laying ceremony for Searsdale's new $500,000 Quaker Ridge grade school, intimating much of the progress was attributable to the efforts of his own administration. Dewey's appearance here came at the conclusion of an "inspection trip" through Westchester county, a Republican stronghold, during which he conferred with a number of county Republican leaders. At Rye and Mount Vernon he inspected temporary housing projects for veterans.

Although outlining what he described as his administration's efforts to provide both better housing and better education, Dewey did not touch directly upon politics on his own political plans. His candidacy for re-election this fall is seen as almost virtually certain even though there has been no formal announcement.

Among the points Dewey outlined as indicating his administration's contribution to better state education were:

Increased state aid to schools; better working conditions and pay for teachers; development of child care centers and a program to combat juvenile delinquency; better nutrition for school children; housing for veterans returning to school and an increase in state scholarships.

"The fight for better education and better surroundings is being won on many fronts in this state," he said. "Each year more new programs and more new facilities are being provided for our system of education."

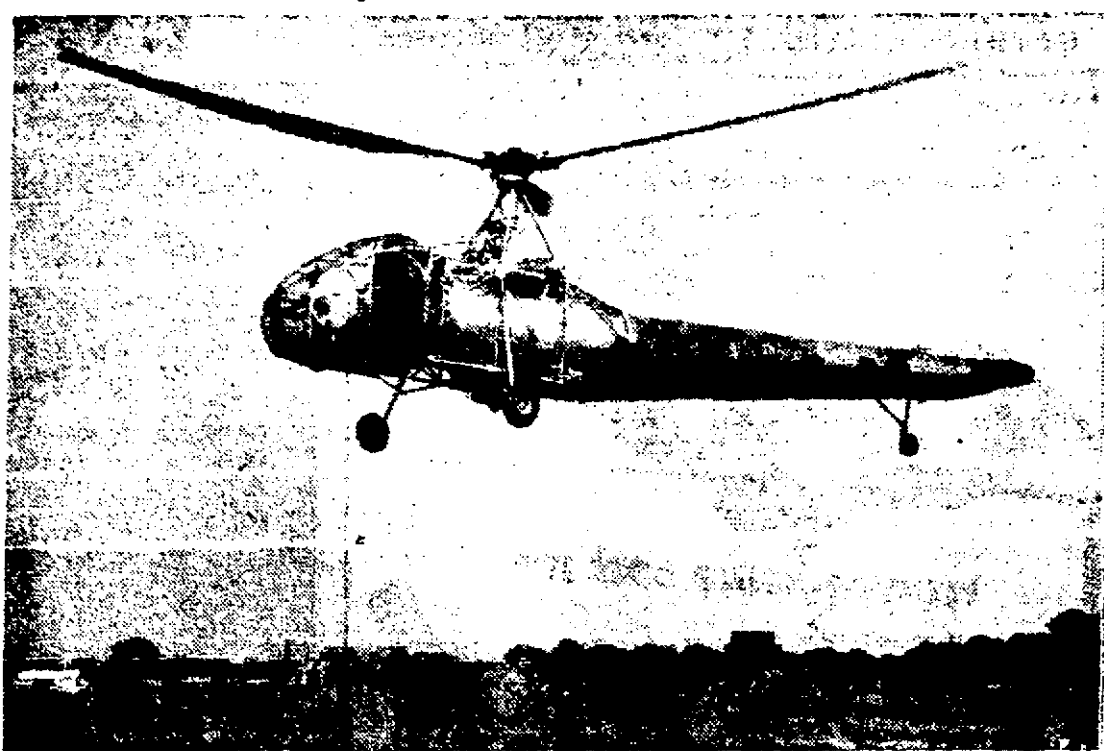

Plates Sell at Half Price

Albany, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Automatic license plates are on sale at half price tomorrow. State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher said yesterday that when July 1, officially prescribed date for halving the price, falls on Saturday, Sunday or Monday, the reduced rate becomes effective the preceding Friday.

MacArthur to Attend

Manila, June 27 (AP)—President Manuel A. Roxas announced today that General MacArthur would come here from Tokyo to attend Philippine Independence Day ceremonies July 4.

Stifling Heat Gripped Kingston for Third Day

Stifling heat continues to grip Kingston and for the second successive day the mercury in the official city thermometer on Wednesday hit a high of 96 degrees in the shade during the afternoon, while last night was the warmest night so far recorded this year with 72 degrees recorded.

Indication were that today would prove another scorcher, although a cooling breeze swept through the streets during the morning hours.

Gas Revenues Gain
Gains in revenues from the sale of utility gas in the residential and commercial fields for the first quarter of 1946 more than offset the decline in industrial gas revenues caused by the sharp decrease in war production, the American Gas Association reported today. Total revenues from gas utility sales for the three months ended

March 31 amounted to $7,728,600, compared with total revenues of $362,637,390 in the like period of 1945. Revenues from residential gas sales were $25,432,790, a gain of 7.3 per cent over last year; commercial gas sales revenue totaled $11,884,901, an increase of 6.9 per cent. Revenues from sales of industrial gas amounted to $82,041,710, a decline of 11.9 per cent under the comparable period of 1945.

Y. M. C. A. Day Camp at Pine Knolls Opens

The annual Y.M.C.A. Day Camp at Pine Knolls, DeWitt Lake, opened for the six weeks season on Monday, when 114 boys and girls left the "Y" by bus for the camp. Physical Director Louis H. Shafer, camp director, said today that more than a hundred boys and girls have enrolled for each week of the camp. This year there are many added features, and stronger emphasis is being placed on the water front activities at the camp. The photo shows the group of campers posed in front of the "Y" as they await the arrival of the buses to convey them to Day Camp. (Freeman Photo)

Hand Protection
One of the best ways to protect your hands from dirt and scratches is to wear gloves while putting in the garden. After working outdoors, scrub your hands with soap and hot water and a stiff brush. Then dry them thoroughly and apply a bit of hand lotion to replace the natural oils that have been washed out of the skin.

SHOKAN

Shokan, June 27—Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kirk of Newburgh called on local friends in the course of a fishing trip to the reservoir last Sunday. Mr. Kirk, a school teacher, resided in Shokan as a boy while his father was employed on the waterworks construction. Mrs. Kirk for many years taught in the public schools of Newburgh.

Mrs. Lionel Freedman and infant daughter of New York have joined Mrs. Esther Freedman at the latter's rented bungalow on Van Steenburgh road. Lionel Freedman, who spent several summers here as a boy, is now stationed with an army unit at Clarke Field, P. I., where he has been employing his architectural training in the rebuilding of that Army Air Force post.

Beginning this week-end the annual influx of city people to this section will be on in earnest. Practically all available cabins and bungalows are rented for the season. The Grossman house on Route 28 is booked to its capacity of 65 persons for the summer and boarders have begun to arrive at the Ruckert house in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wendt are making a number of improvements at their Van Steenburgh road residence, one of these being a septic tank in preparation for the addition of a new bathroom.

Sunday, June 26, 1868, Mrs. Henry Eggleston was baptized by an elder of the Old School Baptist sect, the ceremony taking place in the Bushkill pool near the C. H. Weidner farm house. Mrs. Eggleston, for many years a prominent Tannersville resident, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Perry, whose old homestead along the mountain side is now a part of the Winchell farm. Mrs. Eggleston was an aunt of Miss Ethel Perry of Kingston.

Spring road work in the First Division district closed last week, thus releasing a number of men for assisting farmers in haying, which will get under way next week. Foreman Ray Cudney will help Erwin Secor with his summer work.

Otto Grossmann, Jr., one time K. H. S. student, is home on a 30-day furlough from his duties with the Navy air forces. Otto, who enlisted in the Navy following war service on a carrier in Pacific waters, is now stationed at an air base in Rhode Island.

William Loos returned to Inwood Sunday after spending a week's vacation here. "Bill" while in Shokan renewed acquaintance with a number of old friends and also found time to lift a few fish from the waters of the east basin.

Lieut. Jack Freeman, 28 years an Army man, was ordered to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, following his furlough here in May and is now stationed with a Quartermaster's Corps unit at the fort.

James Carpenter, Jr., Richmond Hill young man who has spent many summer vacations in Shokan, recently enlisted in the Navy and is now in training at the Great Lakes base. "Jimmy" was employed last summer as a life guard at Rockaway Beach and the year previously was one of the councilors at a Boy Scout camp in Sullivan county.

Costly Ferry Terminal Planned for Island

New York, June 27 (AP)—A new, streamlined $12,000,000 ferry terminal at St. George, Staten Island, was in prospect today as a replacement for the structure destroyed by fire Tuesday and Mayor William O'Dwyer said work would start immediately.

Plans for a new terminal already had been drawn and coincidentally were delivered at City Hall at the very moment flames were roaring through the sprawling 40-year-old building.

In a special session last night the City Board of Estimate authorized an expenditure of $3,000,000 for initial work and was scheduled to give formal approval at a regular meeting tonight.

Ferry service from lower Manhattan and Brooklyn to Staten Island returned to near-normal for thousands of commuters last night. Firemen still worked today on smoldering ruins left by the $2,000,000 blaze, set by a spark from an electric train.

Search revealed no additional victims in the fire, which took three known lives and injured a number of other persons.

Pennsylvania Extends Pollution Drive

Harrisburg, Pa., June 27 (AP)—Pennsylvania has extended its stream pollution drive to cover wastes dumped into state streams by small industrial plants and business concerns.

Dr. Harry W. Weest, state secretary of health and chairman of the state sanitary water board, said yesterday that "a great deal of damage is caused by wastes from small businesses, many of which probably are not conscious of the fact that they are contributing to the pollution problem."

He listed as small polluters such businesses as garages which divert oils and greases into streams; milk and cheese plants; paint shops; textile and dye works; barrel cleaning shops; plating establishments; slaughter houses; foundries and machine shops; rendering plants; canneries; and even agriculturists who use spraying materials that find their way into streams.

New York State Farms Abound in Opportunities For Veterans

Training Benefits Will Range Up To $90 Monthly

No "On-the-Job" Program Has Been Started Here; Several Applications Are Being Processed

Training Board Committee Is Named to Assist Veterans Seeking Work

New York state farms are now abounding in opportunities for returned veterans with the extension of "on-the-job" training benefits to cover agricultural workers,
County Agricultural Agent Al
Kurd said today.

Mr. Kurd pointed out that a recent Veterans Administration provision provides for vets to get subistence allowances ranging up to $90 monthly while they prepare for such farm jobs as skilled farm worker, manager, foreman, herds-man or machine operators. He added that farms are in dire need of help.

The United States Employment Service office in Kingston has been attempting to recruit farm labor but with negligible success.
The additional benefits proposed in the new plans may be a boon to ex-G.I.'s who desire to return to the soil, George Stanton, U. S.
E. S. office manager, believes.

No "on-the-job" agricultural program has been started in Ulster county, Mr. Kurd said, but several applications are being processed.

The Farm Bureau has appointed a Veterans Agricultural Training Advisory Committee to assist all veterans desiring to make applications. Members of the committee are: Vernon Barnhart, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Warren, Harry J. Beatty, Frank Norman, a representative of the Farm Security Administration, and Raphael Kurd, Mr. Kurd serves as secretary.

The function of the committee is to appraise and approve farms on which the "on-the-job" training will start.

Through the expert assistance and advice of New York state's county agricultural agents, the training programs for veterans seeking a future in food production will be thoroughly adequate.
County agents are working in close cooperation with veterans counselors and the Labor Department.

An intensified program, Kurd said, would assure the state of year-round workers on farms and veterans will fill a sorely needed part of New York's agricultural labor force.

Training Program

Embracing every aspect of New York state farming, the agricultural training program is designed for the veteran who feels his destiny is linked with the good earth but who is prohibited from accepting an agricultural "trainee position" because of the necessarily small wage.

Based on the same precepts as the "on-the-job" training programs drafted for business and industry, the agricultural training program enables the farm-minded veteran to accept farm employment at a beginner's wage by supplementing the wage or share of profits guaranteed to the veteran by his farmer-employer with a subsistence check authorized under the G.I.
Bill of Rights. The combined incomes produce a salary equivalent to the wages of an experienced worker in the farm skill to which the veteran aspires and for which he is being trained.

Such training, the county agent
continued, provides the farmer with an honorably discharged veteran who has not resorted to an agricultural job as an employment
"stop-gap." The nature of the program guarantees the farmer a worker who maintains a sincere interest in farming, an ambition to learn whetted by training years lost in uniform, an efficiency unimpeded by financial concern, and a worker who, while actively engaged in the fight against famine, is rapidly developing into an asset to the farmer, the community, and the nation.

The employer of any "on-the-job" trainee must be a reputable farmer, Mr. Kurd said. He must be aware of his responsibilities of thoroughly training the veteran in a marketable farm skill—whether the abilities, equipment and farming toward competency as a skilled farm-manager, farm-operator, or any skilled category below those grades.

Subsistence Allowance

Once a farm is certified by the Veterans Agricultural Advisory Committee, payment of the subsistence allowance to the veteran by the federal government begins.
The subsistence amounts to a maximum of $65 per month for unmarried workers and a maximum of $90 per month for married workers with dependents.
In addition to his farm wages,

the veteran receives a monthly check from the Veterans Administration. The amount of the check —the difference between what the farmer pays the veteran trainee and the wage the veteran would receive as a skilled worker in his chosen field—will, in no event, be larger than the difference between the veteran's starting wage and the skilled wage which he will receive at the conclusion of his training period.

Subsistence allowances will continue within the period of training provided the veteran evidences satisfactory progress in his agricultural course.

The maximum period of education and training entitlement to accomplish a specified course of training is one year for the first 90 days of service plus one added year for each additional year of active service, not to exceed four years.

The time required to train any veteran toward a specified farm skill in an approved "on-the-job" training program may vary with the recommended training period according to the veteran's experience and learning ability. It has been estimated that a period of one year is the time required to train an unskilled veteran to a skilled farmer in any of the types of farming practiced in New York state. Two years of work-study will thoroughly prepare the trainee for the responsibilities of a farm foreman in any of the fields of farming, and three years will ground the trainee in the complexities of farm management.

10,000 Opportunities

An estimated 10,000 agricultural opportunities exist for farmers and skilled farm workers within the state. The almost unlimited farm opportunities caused by an excess of farm workers to war-sucked industries, manifest themselves in a state that produces seven million tons of milk, eggs, fruit, vegetables, and other farm products.

In order to assure the veteran that the "on-the-job" training programs in agriculture are not sug-coated overtures designed to exploit his ambition as a student agriculturist by confining his labors to those of a seasonal worker,
the New York State Department of Labor will approve no educational plans that do not specifically provide for the veteran's progressive attainment of a definite farm skill.

Thus, the unscrupulous farmer, bent on securing the services of seasonal workers under the subterfuge of training the veteran in a specialized farm skill, will have no opportunity to wreck the veteran's agricultural future.

To further guarantee that plan, field supervisors from the regional office of the Veterans Administration will constantly check to insure that regular progress toward competency as a skilled worker is being made by the trainee.
Dairy, poultry, fruit and vegetable farming are the principal types of farming practiced in New York state supplemented by specialized types of farming, such as mushroom growing, goat farming, landscape gardening, for farming and nursery cultivation.

In completing Form OJ-101 (Information Required for On-The-Job Training Approvals), the farmer-employer should prepare a detailed training program indicating what the veteran is to learn.
Broken down into the various phases of farm training the trainee would learn in the various branches.

Maintain a herd of dairy cattle, including breeding, feeding, record keeping and other skills tangent to the reproduction of dairy cattle and the production of milk.

Operate and maintain machinery and equipment used in the maintenance of dairy cattle and milk production.

Grow, harvest and store grain and forage crops produced on the farm for feeding and maintaining dairy cattle.

Operate and maintain machinery and equipment utilized in the production of grain and forage crops and harvest and store such crops.

Buy dairy cattle, farm machinery, equipment, feed for livestock, seed and fertilizer for crop production. Keep records of a dairy farm business.

Market livestock, dairy and other farm products which may be produced on the farm.

Poultry Farming

The veteran will learn to:
Raise chickens for egg and meat production. In this course is included incubation, buying, chicks, brooding, feeding, sanitation and housing.

Maintain a flock of laying hens for egg production. In this maintenance is included selection, housing, feeding sanitation, culling and other care for the production of eggs. May include breeding for hatching or hatchery egg production.

Operate and maintain equipment used in chick production rearing, egg production and the maintenance of laying hens.

Grade and prepare eggs for market, select birds for meat marketing, sell alive or slaughtered and prepare for meat market. (In accordance with farm practice).

Buy poultry equipment, rear

Chester Dolson Enlists

The Kingston army recruiting station reported today the three-year enlistment in the regular army of Chester Arthur Dolson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester
A. Dolson of 716 Broadway, Kingston. Recently graduated from Kingston High School, Chester chose to serve his initial enlistment in the Army Air Forces.

Two Phases Completed

Washington, June 26 (AP)— Chairman Lucas (D-Ill.) said today a Senate-House subcommittee has completed two phases of its proposed report on the Pearl Harbor investigation and is studying the question of fixing responsibility for American unpreparedness when the Japanese attacked.

Atomic Bomb Pioneer Doesn't Fear Results

Professor John R. Dunning of Columbia University, one of the leading American scientists in the development of the atomic bomb, is en route to Bikini to view at first hand the performance of the handwork in which he and members of the Columbia staff pioneered.

Dr. Dunning, whose experiment in Pappin Hall on the Columbia campus on January 25, 1939, was the first in this country to provide unmistakable evidence of the violence of the fission chain reaction, left Washington Sunday in company with a group of Army and Navy officers. The party will fly to Kwajalein to board an observation ship there.

Dr. Dunning declined to make a prediction as to the results of the tests. However, he did brand as fantastic the fears which have been expressed of a widespread disaster such as a break in the ocean floor, resulting tidal waves and a chain reaction that might spread havoc throughout the Pacific.

"Nothing of the kind will happen," he said, "but invaluable

data should result from the test—data which will place beyond the realm of speculation many points which are being discussed today.
The results should provide a clear picture of the effect on fighting ships of the explosion which takes place above the water's surface and the size of the waves and general damage created by the under-water explosion planned later.

"The Army and Navy groups cooperating feel that they know with some accuracy just about what will happen. Until the event actually occurs, much of the speculation which has been going on is little more than talk.

"If the tests provide information enabling scientists to protect human beings from the results of atomic explosions, or to minimize those results, it seems to me they will be worthwhile. We need accurate information on which to base future policies."

Dr. Dunning expects to spend four or five days at Bikini after the tests studying the results. He will return to Morningside Heights by air.

Virtual Famine
In Fresh Meats
Is Reported Today

Fish, Fowl, Eggs Replace Main Meat Dish on Dinner Tables as Shops Close

(By The Associated Press)

A virtual famine in fresh meat for most of the nation was reported today—with no indications of immediate relief—as the Senate prepared to act on the House-approved compromise O.P.A. bill retaining meat price controls.

Some packer industry spokesmen said should the bill become law, keeping the lids on livestock and meat prices, the country's meat supply "will get even worse."

Others asserted the scarcity would continue for several months. One large packer said the shortage would continue "until the fate of O.P.A. is determined." There were threats of a complete shutdown of facilities from packing houses to retail markets in Los Angeles, because of expressed dissatisfaction over the O.P.A. bill provisions.

Fish and fowl and eggs replaced the main meat dish on the country's dinner tables as hundreds of butcher shops across the country closed. Operations in packing plants dropped to new all-time low levels.

The abnormally low volume of livestock at markets during the last two weeks has resulted in the lowest output in history at many plants.

New York city's meat-hungry millions were unable to find any meat even in the illegal market. One butcher said he was forced to close his shop for the first time in 32 years. There was an abundance of fish, with receipts of a million pounds daily reported. The poultry

Two Roosevelts Back
Opposing Candidates

Seattle, June 26 (AP)—Two members of the Roosevelt family have added a controversial dash to an already bitter Democratic congressional primary campaign here by helping at long range, opposing candidates.

James Roosevelt, the late President's eldest son, last week endorsed Rep. Hugh De Lacy for re-nomination in the July 9 primary. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, in a letter to "Jimmy," informed her brother that she knew De Lacy and his arch-rival, Howard Costigan, while she was a Seattle resident, and told him, in effect, that he had picked the wrong man.

Mrs. Boettiger's letter to her brother was released by Costigan last night. He said she had written him from her home in Phoenix, Ariz., that "you may use it if you want to."

Ellenville Grocery
Business Incorporated

A certificate of incorporation has been filed by Benjamin De-kofsky, Inc., of Ellenville, a corporation formed to conduct a wholesale and retail grocery and general merchandise business at Ellenville. The corporation is authorized to have a capital stock of $100,000, to consist of 1,000 shares of common stock of a $100 par value. Directors named to serve until the next election are Benjamin and Merle Deikofsky of 6 Hermance street, Ellenville, Ethel Koopman of Wayside Inn building, Ellenville, and Sylvia Hoffman of Tempo Cottages, Napanoch.

Flagstad's Husband
Dies While Under Arrest

Oslo, Norway, June 26 (AP)—Henry Johansen, husband of the Norwegian soprano Kirsten Flagstad, died Tuesday in a state hospital presumably from pulmonary cancer, the chief of criminal police announced today.

When he died Johansen still was under arrest charged with espionage collaboration with the Nazis during the occupation of Norway. Miss Flagstad had been living in southern Norway and police stressed that the singer never has been charged with anything under Norwegian law.

Sentence Suspended

New York, June 26 (AP)—Army Captain Archie Miller today received suspended sentence from General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen on his recent guilty plea to manslaughter in the first degree in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife's suitor. An army detainee was waiting for Miller, who is expected to be taken to Governors Island to face army action. He was indicted during the murder in the first degree after it was alleged he shot and killed Captain Eugene Dale, 27, in the apartment of Miller's wife at 10 West 58th street last December 28.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

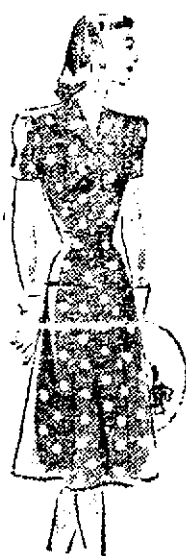

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of ridding the body of waste. They filter out poisons, excess acids and poisons from the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes are clogged, don't work, and the waste materials are left in the blood, the kidneys may be overworked. Backache, leg pains, tiredness, loss of appetite and energy, putting up with aches, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, are all signs and symptoms of tired kidneys.

Don't wait! Ask your doctor for Dr. J. J. Pils, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 30 years. Dr. Pils gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons from the blood. Get Dr. Pils.

Damage to Germany Called 'Tremendous'

Berlin, June 27 (AP)—W. E. Christensen, one of 12 American newspaper executives touring the U. S. Zone of Germany as guests of the War Department, said last night that people who fear Germany as an imminent threat to world peace should see the ravages the war has wreaked upon the nation to get a balanced picture.

"The damage, as we have seen it here and in Frankfurt and from the air at points in between, is simply tremendous," said Christensen, editor of the Omaha World Herald. "We had seen pictures and read accounts, but it has to be seen to be believed."

"We have heard that Germany, left to herself and without occupation—could become a threat again in 10 years, but that is hard to believe when one has driven around Berlin and seen bucket brigades of women still picking up the rubble of ruined buildings and piling it up brick by brick more than a year after the war's end."

The editors, who concluded the second day of talks with military government officials, heard of the difficulties imposed upon the American zone by the failure to achieve a four-power agreement on administering Germany as an economic unit.

Last night they were dinner guests of the Berlin American Press Club, along with Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in the European theater; Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor in Germany; and Robert D. Murphy, U. S. political adviser.

Railway Express Employees Remain Away From Posts

New York, June 27 (AP)—A number of A.F.L. Railway Express employees—police headquarters said "hundreds"—failed to report for early shifts at two major shipment terminals here today, apparently in anticipation of a union grievance meeting scheduled for later in the day.

Although officials of both the union and the Express Agency were not immediately available for word as to the exact cause of the action, a union spokesman said earlier that "great dissatisfaction" among the workers over layoffs might lead to a strike in the near future in the New York area.

Some 5,000 members of the union, the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers and express and station employees, were expected to attend a meeting at 2 p. m. to determine what action would be taken.

The union claims to have more than 10,000 members in the New York city area.

Terminals reported affected by failure of men to report for duty were those at 42nd street and 11th avenue, and 33rd street and 10th avenue. About 450 were said to be off the job at the former place and some 150 at the latter.

Police said the 42nd street terminal handled an average of 90,000 shipments daily.

Arthur A. Gracy, vice general chairman of the Union's District 13 Adjustment Board, asserted Tuesday that "the company is trying to offset recent wage rises by laying off workers." He added:

He said the workers might vote to strike at the mass meeting.

Tomatoes Easy to Can
The tomato is the easiest of all vegetables to can. This should be an inducement to the housewife to consider putting up some this summer. Here's an interesting angle—tomatoes do not lose vitamin "C" in canning as do some other foods and, canned tomatoes can wait long months on the pantry shelf with only the slightest loss of vitamin "C."

Sun Helps Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pa., June 27 (AP)—Recent warm, sunny days have enabled Pennsylvania's farmers to catch up with their planting. Many fields are still too wet to cultivate, the state department of agriculture reports. A federal crop summary issued yesterday for the week ending Tuesday shows that in addition to delaying planting, May and June rains postponed haymaking and spraying operations with much cut hay lost before the fair weather arrived. On the fruit front, the department reported that the picking of sweet cherries is well along and harvesting of sour cherries has begun. Hauling of peas for canning and freezing is also under way.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Getting to Be a Habit

Santa Ana, Calif., June 27 (AP)—The Maxey family is arriving in doubles.

On June 18, Eugene R. Maxey's wife, Marion, gave birth to a boy and a girl. Now the babies have twin cousins—boys born this week at the same hospital to uncle William Maxey and his wife, Jeanette.

Occupation Notwithstanding

San Diego, Calif., June 27 (AP)—John W. Brown, secretary of the Local and State Bartenders' Union (A.F.L.) was chosen by Prohibition Party voters at the June 4 primary for a place on the party's county central committee.

"I feel highly complimented," said Brown, "even if I can't serve." He explained, as did Rex Lord, registrar of voters, that he was ineligible because he was not a registered Prohibitionist. The voters favoring him wrote in his name on the ballot.

It Couldn't Happen Here

Springfield, Ill., June 27 (AP)—The family of Lt. Col. Charles R. Bean is getting ready to join him in Heidelberg, Germany, and will have no housing problem.

Mrs. Grace Bean, who expects to embark July 9 with the couple's five children, said there is a 19-room house waiting for them in Germany.

Capital Cooler

Des Moines, Ia., June 27 (AP)—Mid-morning coffee drinking by statehouse employees, frowned on by their bosses, saved Iowa Secretary of Agriculture Harry D. Linn and two other men from a thorough chilling yesterday.

They were accidentally locked in a new cafeteria walk-in cooler which they were inspecting. But their shouts and kicking on the door attracted the coffee drinkers, who released them.

Hot Muffins a Favorite with Iced Drinks

For Lazy Appetites . . . Hot Muffins for Food Value

Are the younger members of your family inclined to be a bit indifferent to food during hot weather? Serve hot muffins with lemonade or iced tea to intrigue their lazy appetites. Hot muffins provide that extra measure of nourishment, so likely to be overlooked in hot weather meal planning. They're very simple to make, too, if you use a box of fully-prepared hot muffin mix. Just add water according to directions — and bake!

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Investiture

Port Ewen, June 26—Troops 19, Girl Scouts and 44, Brownies of Port Ewen, held an Investiture, Court of Awards and Fly-Up in the Girl Scout room in the Reformed Church Thursday afternoon, June 20. The members of the two troops, marching to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers," played by Veronica Coniglio, formed a large horseshoe with the leaders of both troops taking their places in the open end.

Mrs. Robert J. Torrens, Jr., leader of the Brownie Troop, welcomed the mothers and friends of the scouts, and introduced Mrs. Ole Christianson, leader of Troop 19. Mrs. Torrens is assisted by Mrs. John Henry and Mrs. James Sleight. Mrs. Christianson is assisted by Mrs. Eltinge Ellsworth and Mrs. Clifford Davis, Jr.

The program continued with the girls singing the "Hymn of Scoutship," the same as the flag, and the Brownies singing their "Brownie Song." Mrs. Torrens presented the most recent Brownies with their pins. They were Janet Benton, Doris Ferguson and Arlene Munson, who gave their Brownie Promise and Salute. She then presented Marlene Hamilton and Beth Wheeler with their "wings" to wear on their Girl Scout uniforms. This signifies that they had "flown up" from the Brownies. They took their place in Troop 19. Mrs. Christianson presented them with their tenderfoot pins.

Union Fined For Strike

The Labor Court of Iquique, Chile, has established a precedent for that nation by ordering a labor union to pay for damage caused by an illegal strike. The Labor Syndicate of the Santiago Humboldt nitrate plant was ordered to pay the company $1,200 as a result of an illegal strike called in one department last September.

ing out exclusively 2x4's which must be pre-arranged at the cost of the building contractor.

Upgrading of materials. Charging customers for more lumber than was actually received.

Marking retail sales without having licenses.

Flagrant overcharging sales. Cutting short lengths.

The O.P.A. said it started the actions under urging by U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and with funds appropriated by Congress three months ago. Within the last 30 days the O.P.A. has employed numerous investigators in a probe of the western lumber industry.

Is Taken to Prison. Deputy Sheriff Leonard Beland and Leonard Elsworth today delivered Herbert Williams, King's County inmate, to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora where he will be serving a 15-year life term pronounced yesterday by County Judge John M. Cullen.

a fourth offender. District Attorney Louis Bruhn filed an information charging Williams with having been convicted under the name of Harry Long back in May 1921 in Philadelphia of the crime of forcible entry, larceny and receiving stolen property. An eight months sentence in the Philadelphia county prison was imposed. Again under the name of Howard J. Burns in 1922 Williams was accused of grand larceny in the state of New Jersey and sentenced to a term of from 3 to 7 years in Trenton prison. He was paroled

Dewey Names Special Aides

Gov. Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut.

Under present plans the United Nations would move into permanent headquarters in three to five years. Meanwhile, the secretariat will go to Lake Success on Long Island in mid-August and the general assembly will meet at the old World's Fair site in Flushing, these two locations having been selected as the interim sites.

Sir Angus avoided direct answers to questions ask whether the commission still would consider the controversial area around Greenwich, Conn., and neighboring Westchester communities.

Selection of those communities was protested strenuously by residents last year. He did not say, however, that the possibilities of this site would be abandoned by the commission.

"We haven't yet begun to look for site," was his answer, repeated several times, to questions on this subject.

The U. N. General Assembly last year empowered its headquarters commission to study and report on five alternate sites in the Westchester-Fairfield area.

Sir Angus said that on the delegation's visit to the governor this morning it explained to him that "our preparations are now so far advanced that we hope to be able to visit Westchester during the next two weeks to see if any sites are available there."

Would Meet Others. Sir Angus said his delegation also told the governor that it looked forward to meeting county authorities and any other officials who might be interested in the U. N.'s headquarters program.

To further questioning, after Dewey had ended his brief statement, Sir Angus said that the commission was starting "with a clean sheet, we are not bound by previous selections."

Dewey, asked if additional meetings between him and the delegation were planned said they would be held "as soon as possible."

He said that Senator Williamson had been appointed last year as chairman of the joint legislative commission "on the subject of the United Nations," and that in his new role he would be serving in a triple capacity, that of chairman of the legislative group, and as a representative both of the State of New York and the County of Westchester in cooperating with the U. N. group.

Judd, he said, has been named by him as a special assistant to the attorney general for purposes of his appointment.

The commission is limited in its surveys to Westchester and Fairfield counties.

Credit Alert Officers For Attacker's Arrest

New York, June 27 (AP)—Two probationary policemen, who were suspicious of an automobile in a deserted section of Brooklyn early today and noted the license number, were credited with the arrest of a garage worker on charges of rape and grand larceny.

After responding to the screams of a 17-year-old girl who said she had been attacked in a vacant lot, the probationary policemen told Detective Cornelius Ryan of seeing the automobile near the attack scene.

A check-up revealed that the automobile had been parked at a garage by its owner who was in bed at the time of the attack. The police went to the garage just as a man who identified himself as John Wisinski, 23, drove in with the car.

Ryan said Wisinski admitted attacking the girl. He was arrested immediately.

'Crisis Is Not Over'

Washington, June 27 (AP)—President Truman said today the world food crisis "is not over" although the United States is abreast of the situation in the shipment of grain.

The President said in a statement that the country must continue to share its food "during the coming months of hunger abroad. He released this statement to his new conference, asserting that the United States "will fully meet its half-year goal of 6,000,000 tons of food grains, but that final shipments to complete the total will not leave Americans ports until after the first of July."

Asks Bill's Approval

Washington, June 27 (AP)—Postmaster General Robert F. Hannegan asked congress today to approve a bill cutting the postage on domestic air mail from eight cents to three cents an ounce. He wrote the senate post office committee, that the reduction constituted an "essential first step" for increasing use of air mail, and said that it was "highly important" that it should be put through speedily.

Judge Cashin said that while attorney at the first term of court following his appointment by Governor Dewey, he had acted "like a veteran" and the people of the county were fortunate in having so capable and efficient a person serving as district attorney. "The people of this county are fortunate to have men like Mr. Cashin and Mr. Connelly as district attorney and assistant district attorney," Judge Cashin told the jurors in excusing them until July 3 at 10 o'clock. On July 8 there is a possibility that a will contest case may be heard, if not the jurors will be notified and will receive their compensation for service by mail.

Byron E. Shoup, who was indicted for possession of a firearm, was in court and Judge Cashin ordered the indictment sealed and Shoup prosecuted under the provisions of the Youthful Offender

Law because of his age. Francis Martocci appeared for Shoup and the case was later heard at chambers.

Herman Bronson, charged with assault, second degree and resisting an officer, appeared for assignment of counsel and Mr. Martocci was assigned. Bronson had been arraigned in supreme court and entered a plea of not guilty when his case was transferred to County Court. Bronson is accused of having created a disturbance in town of Marlborough and resisting arrest by a Trooper on May 26. His case was adjourned to July 8 and he was remanded to custody of the sheriff.

Joseph Patrick Hemmerick of New York city, charged with grand larceny, first degree, appeared and Raymond Mino was assigned. A plea of not guilty had been entered. Twenty days were granted for making of further motions.

Case Against Sam Astolas, Jr., Again Put Over 2 Weeks

Sam Astolas, Jr., 35, of Route 1, Kingston, who was arrested by the police on June 11, in a raid on an alleged "horse room" at 650 Broadway, had his hearing in police court again adjourned today, this time for two weeks.

At the time he was arrested, Astolas posted bail of $100 and the bail was continued today.

The raid on the "horse room" was made by Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss and Detectives Wesley Cramer and Clarence W. Brophy.

They seized $550 in cash and a number of alleged racing forms. The names of five men found in the place were taken by the officers.

Will Attempt to Send Rocket Up 100 Miles

White Sands, N. M., June 27 (AP)—The army and navy teams up today in an effort to launch a German V-2 rocket 100 miles or more in altitude and obtain scientific data from that record height. In a test May 10, the rocket went up 71 miles.

In five previous launchings, the V-2 plummeted down at 2,400 miles an hour, burying itself so deep in the ground that recovery of instruments was impossible. This time an explosion will throw the instruments clear at the top of the flight.

Almost a quart of water is separated by the nose every 24 hours.

in fixing state aid for schools, the commission said.

The table showed that total assessed valuation on taxable real property in the five counties comprising New York city were $15,902,977,696, a gain of $556,985,682 over 1944. In the other 57 counties, the valuations were $9,685,128,815, higher than the previous year by $15,795,958.

Only New York, Kings and Nassau counties have equalization rates of 100.

Deficit Is Reported

Haven, Conn., June 27 (AP)—A deficit of $1,343,006 resulted from May operations of the New Haven and Hartford railroad company, compared with income of $1,780,935 for the same month a year ago, the railroad reported today. Included in the deficit was a loss of $340,000 from operations of the Old Colony road and of $305,000 for the Boston and Providence railroad. For the five months ending May, the total deficit was reported at $1,591,133 compared with a net income of $8,010,066 for the same period last year.

Chilean President Dies at Santiago

Juan Antonio Rios, 58, Broke With Axis,
January, 1943

Santiago, Chile, June 27 (AP)—Juan Antonio Rios, president of Chile since 1942, died here today after a prolonged illness. He was 58 years old.

Rios had been on leave of absence since last January because of ill health.

He was elected president on February 1, 1942, in a sweeping victory of the left-wing front, Rios previously had held the posts of prime minister, minister of justice and president of the Chilean Agricultural Bank.

When he took office as president, the Allied cause was at its lowest ebb, and the United States was freshly committed to a world war. Only Chile and Argentina, among the American nations, still maintained relations with the Axis powers. In his first address to congress Rios promised he would not permit the use of Chilean territory as a center of attacks dangerous to the other American nations.

Chile's international relations reached a crisis when U. S. Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles charged that Chile and Argentina were centers of Axis espionage—a charge strongly denied by the Chilean foreign minister. However, Rios persisted and a goodwill tour he had planned to make to the United States.

Chile broke relations with the Axis powers in January, 1943, and Rios' government vigorously prosecuted a campaign to root out Axis spy rings in Chile. Chile also contributed large exports of nitrates and copper to the Allied munitions stockpile.

Rios underwent an operation for what hospital bulletins described as "stomach ulcers" in October, 1944, but subsequently returned to work. He visited President Truman in Washington last October and then continued his trip through the United States and Canada.

Engravers to Melt Dollars

New York, June 27 (AP)—The Photo-Engraving Board of Trade has announced it will melt down silver dollars to obtain silver nitrate, a key item in the photo-engraving process. Industrial silver supplies are so short, the board said, that many engraving plants are faced with a shutdown within a week. The board added that U. S. Treasury officials advised there is no law against melting silver coins.

Repair Shops to Close

All shoe repair shops in the city will close every Monday during the months of July and August starting Monday, July 1. It was announced today.

SUSPECT

Richard R. Thomas, 42, sits in county jail at Phoenix, Ariz., where Sheriff Ernest W. Roach reported Thomas told him he had killed six-year-old Suzanne Degnan in Chicago last January. (AP Wirephoto)

May Have Slayer Of Degnan Girl: Story Is Checked

Phoenix, Ariz., June 27 (AP)—Three Chicago law enforcement officers arrived here by plane today and began checking the story of a man named Richard R. Thomas who told Phoenix authorities that he was the kidnaper-slayer of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan in Chicago last January.

Assistant District Attorney Edward F. Leahy of Chicago immediately examined samples of Thomas' handwriting to see how it compared with the kidnaper ransom note.

There are some obvious similarities and some obvious dissimilarities but Leahy would like to have an expert make an examination before I give an opinion on the matter.

Healy was accompanied by Lt. John Olson and Detective Walter Thomas, who were sent to the Chicago Police Office.

The Chicago police officers talked with Thomas and his wife, who said they would interview him at 10:30 A.M. today. They said they would interview him at 10:30 A.M. today.

The interview of Thomas, the policemen said, will be held definitely the question of whether Thomas told the truth about killing the Degnan child.

Both Chicago authorities and local investigators are studying the possibility that Thomas may have been forced to confess to the crime, perhaps because of the year-old conflict in swimming.

for a sex offense against the 12-year-old daughter.

Chief of Detectives Walter Thomas of Chicago pointed out that the possibility Thomas declared: "I would sooner go to the pen than to the asylum. If I go to the asylum I'd never get out. I'm not insane, that's a cinch. I'm not insane."

The Pearl...

Lucky the lady born in June for her birthstone is the chaste, beautiful pearl. The pearl, a gem formed by nature in the shell of an oyster, is now largely cultivated under the direction of man. The cultured pearl is produced by inserting a nucleus, or "irritant" in the oyster which is then lowered to a specially prepared bed in the bottom of a tropical sea. There it takes from three to five years for the layers of nacre to be deposited on the irritant and make a cultured pearl.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Clark of Port Ewen, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Theresa Clark, to Walter G. Pilz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Pilz of Hurley. No date has been set for the wedding.

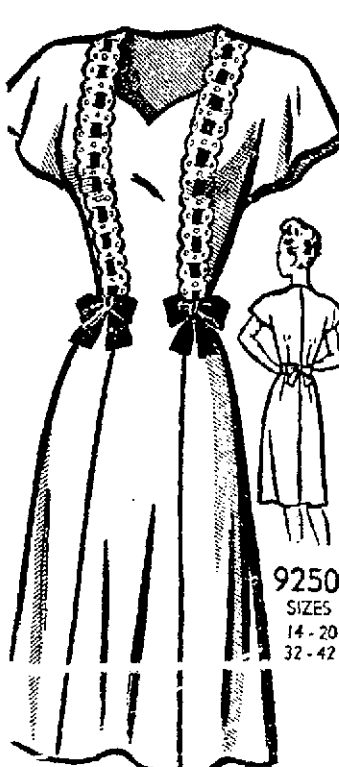

Save Those Fats

Fats are desperately needed for food to prevent starvation, and for soap with which to fight diseases throughout Europe and Asia. So buy and use less fats and oils, make use of every ounce of used fats, and take any left overs that cannot be used to the butcher or grocer.

Salad Bowl Treatment

Never soak the salad bowl. A clean cloth wrung out in hot soapy water is the best treatment for a wooden bowl. Dry with a paper towel and polish with oiled cloth.

BIRTHDAY OR ANNIVERSARY?

A question never asked before is: "Why is it considered suitable to word a printed card 'Congratulations on your birthday' whereas it is always 'Congratulations on your 50th wedding anniversary'?" In other words, if it is wedding anniversary, shouldn't it be birthday anniversary?

Every time the day of your birth comes around, it is your birthday, whatever number, but the day of your marriage is not your wedding. Therefore, the word "anniversary" has to be added to "wedding" but not to "birthday." For instance, Washington's birthday is not called Washington's birthday anniversary, but when a couple has been married a year, it isn't their first wedding day, but their first anniversary!

When Out With Non-Dancers

Dear Mrs. Post: A husband and wife are good dancers and enjoy dancing with each other. On occasion they go dancing with a group of friends. Some of the husbands either can't dance or won't. Their wives are good dancers. Should the particular husband mentioned feel called upon to ask the other wives to dance when this would mean leaving his own wife to sit out meanwhile with non-dancing men?

Answer: He could dance with his own wife every other time and the alternate dances with the other wives. But he hardly could dance oftener than every other dance with his own wife and not be discourteous to the others.

A Pair of Junior Ushers

Dear Mrs. Post: May boys of sixteen act as ushers at a wedding? There are two boys of this age whom we would like to include in my daughter's wedding but someone tells us your column said a half-grown boy is too young. These particular boys are tall, if that would make any difference.

Answer: One boy alone does not fit into the procession, but two boys of similar size could walk together ahead of the ushers. They also may seat some of the guests.

May a man sit next to his wife when dining out with others? The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Restaurant and Theatre," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to her in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Recs Hammer Madison, 10-3; Arma Club Here Saturday Night

Peaderon, Ristau Crack Home Runs; Nicholas Wins 3rd

Locals Explode Seven Run Rally in Big Second; Bobby Maier Collects Two Hits

Two homers, two triples, three doubles and one umpire were hit during the first inning of the baseball game at municipal stadium as the Kingston Recreationers exploded a 7-0 whipping on the highly touted Madison Colonels of New Jersey.

The round trippers were supplied by George Peaderon and Steve Ristau of the locals and, although the other extra-base knocks were more or less side-liners of the game, the batting around of an umpire took the spotlight.

In a hectic third inning Bill Murphy, pitcher at first base, thumbed Jim McCuskey out of the game for "unnecessary ribbing." The outing caused a general free-for-all as players from the Madison bench rushed to protest around the first base sack. After pushing Murphy around for a few minutes, two city policemen came to the scene and ended any further thrash.

Arma Here Saturday Night
The popular Arma team of Long Island will appear at municipal stadium Saturday night. The Long Islanders appeared here during the war and made a big hit with local fans. Abe Spiro and Joe Linsalata are two of the favorites with Arma in addition to Joe Cleary who pitched for the Washington Senators a few years ago. Dick Fitzgerald will do the pitching for Kingston.

George Nicholas went all the way for the Recreationers last night and although he was touched for 10 hits, he registered his third win of the year as against one loss. Nicholas also banged out two hits, Charlie Fuchs, a lefthander, started for Madison but was kayoed in the big second inning when Kingston scored seven times. After pitching one and two-thirds innings, Fuchs was relieved by Mike Roscoe, formerly of the Buffalo Bisons of the International League. Roscoe gave up five hits in six and one-third frames.

Peaderon, Ristau Homer
After a quiet first inning when the side was retired in order, Kingston unleashed its heaviest hitting offensive of the year which was sparked by home runs off the bats of George Peaderon and Steve Ristau, the first two round-trippers of the year.

Joe Wahl, who collected three hits in his first game, led off by hitting his average from .321 to .364, opened the big second with a low liner into left. The ball got by Andy Cella and continued to roll to the bank as Wahl raced to third on a triple. George Peaderon then belted another drive into left which ended up near the flag pole in deep left and Peaderon went all the way around for Kingston's first homer of the year. Wahl scored easily. Fuchs regained his composure after that drive and retired Jim Ashdown and Bill Shelly. Lou Motzer resumed the uprising, however, when he lofted a high pop fly in back of second when Joe Romano misjudged and the ball dropped for a double. Nicholas, eager to help his own cause, bashed a single past short scoring the Recreationer with Kingston's third run, and on the throw to the plate, Nicholas raced to second where he scored a moment later when Frank Bambara laced a hard single to right. With Johnny Gentile at the plate, Bambara stole second. Gentile smacked a bouncer to Ondani at short but the infielder booted the ball and Gentile reached first safely as Bambara took third. That was the stage for Steve Ristau's first homer of the year. Ristau's drive went into deep right. Up for the second time Wahl cracked a single off Ondani's glove at short. That was enough for Fuchs and Mike Roscoe came on to retire Peaderon on a force out to end the merry run-making.

Kingston made it a 9-1 game in the third after Madison pushed across a single tally in the top half of the inning. A walk to Bill Shelly, Lou Motzer's single and another one-bagger by Nicholas drove in the eighth and ninth Kingston runs.

Roscoe pitched commendable ball after the double play in the third and kept the Recreationers in check until the eighth when the final marker came across. A walk to Bambara, a passed ball, Johnny Gentile's infield hit and Joe Wahl's long fly to Cella resulted in the run.

Steve Ondani, the Madison shortstop, was the sparkplug in the team's scoring in the seventh. He opened the frame with a double and scored later when Romano skirted to Sawicki in right. Singles by Andy Cella and Bobby Maier enabled Madison to push in run number three in the eighth.

Press Box Jottings
The big hubbub in the third erupted after Jim Cleary, the starting first sacker for Madison continued to rib Bill Murphy on a close play at first. The umpire waved to the Madison bench and tossed the infielder out of the game. Madison players rushed up to Murphy and protested the outing on the rule that play was still in progress when he thumbed out Cleary. For awhile the stadium was in a state of confusion.

Leo Durocher in action. After being pushed around for a couple of minutes, Murphy warned Madison of further antics. When play was resumed McCuskey was out of the lineup. George Peaderon reported with a sore arm last night but played the full game at third.

Warren Smith of the Smith Advertising Agency announced that he was giving a fountain pen to every Rec player a homer for the rest of the season. The Recs were quick to respond to the offer when Peaderon and Ristau lashed out round-trippers, the first of the year. . . . Steve Ristau's belt into right was one of the best hits at the stadium this year. . . . Eleven batters went to the plate in that second frame. . . . Bill Shelly opened the game with a spectacular grab of Romano's bid for hit through second. . . . The local shortstop came up with another neat catch of Bob Maier's fly in short left. The ex-Detroit Tiger infielder cracked out two hits last night and played a flawless game at third. . . . Bobby Coyle, former first sacker of the Kingston Colonels took a bow after being introduced over the loud speaker. . . . Billy Ostrom failed to show up last night. A Poughkeepsie scribe this morning said he was playing softball down in the Bridge City last night.

Bush to Pitch for Clintons Sunday at Uptown Stadium

Locals Play Wappingers Falls Crusaders in Mid-Hudson Baseball League Contest

Bob Bush, City League favorite of many years, has been named by Manager Jim Freleigh to pitch Sunday's game at municipal stadium for the Gov. Clinton Market team against the Wappingers Falls Crusaders in a regular Mid-Hudson League contest. Bush was signed by Freleigh last week at the same time Andy Celuch and Bill Glaser were added to the fold.

"I'm going to give Bob a chance to show his wares Sunday afternoon," Manager Freleigh told the Freeman sports department this morning. "Bob has impressed me in his City League contests this summer and I feel confident that he can give Charlie Neff a respite now and then. Neff, of course, will be around to relieve Bush if necessary."

Ashdown with Club
Sunday's contest with Wappingers Falls is a vital one for the Gov. Clintons. As a result of the mid-week victory by the Newburgh Grandstand Tavern team over the Newburgh Shapiro Jews, the Clintons trail the Tavern team by a half a game. Newburgh has won four in a row while the Clintons have made it three straight.

The Crusaders will come to the uptown ball park with a record of one victory in three starts. Their forfeit contest with the Shapiro Jews last Sunday is to be decided at a meeting Friday. Unofficial sources hint that the Crusaders will be awarded the forfeit outright. Wappingers defeated the Millbrook Giants in the first game of the year, 4 to 0, and the sixth pitch of Joe Dalbo. Dalbo is the likely prospect to face the Clintons Sunday.

The naming of Jimmy Ashdown to further strengthen the Gov. Clintons reached with complete approval of local fans here in the city. Jimmy, who has been favoring in the outfield with the Kingston Recreationers, is a good batter and a steady outfielder. Manager Freleigh plans to use Ashdown, Mac Trono and Tommy Manes in the outfield.

The rest of the Clinton lineup will include Charlie Neff on first, Eddie Minasian second, Andy Celuch at third and Jimmy Secreto at short. Either Joe Benjamin or Bill Glaser will do the catching.

Plans for the regatta are just about complete, spokesmen of the Kingston Powerboat Association said this morning. A fine array of trophies and prizes has been secured and a capable list of judges has been selected to make the awards.

Meeting Tonight
A special meeting of the Kingston Powerboat Association will be held tonight. Commodore John Glenon requests a full attendance as all committees to handle the various duties on regatta day will be announced. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

Mayones Outlast Koenigs, 9 to 7
Brooks' Homer Decides Game in Seventh

Mayone's Tavern softball team pulled another game out of the fire last night at Hasbrouck Park by scoring a 9 to 7 triumph over the Koenig A. C.

The tavern club, trailing 7 to 6, going into the last half of the seventh, went to work and pushed across three big runs to win the game. A bunt by R. Crosswell and a walk to Studt set the stage for Vince Brooks who promptly belted a long homer to left center to send the winning tallies across the platter.

Mayones started early by blasting Schray for five runs on a walk and hits by McGraw, Crosswell, Allen and Dickerson. Koenig came back with six runs in the third on a walk and three errors sandwiched in with four bingles.

Freer started for Mayones and was relieved by Shattin who went on to pitch fine ball. Freer allowed four hits and six runs during his stint on the hill. Schray took the slab for the Koenigs and gave up nine runs and 10 hits. Dickerson paced the winners while J. Duffner and L. Jensen each knocked out two hits apiece for Koenigs.

The tavern team will play the Berardi Orlers Monday night.

Close Races Seem Assured for Big Regatta on July 7

Trend of Heavy Entries Indicate a Highly Competitive Field; Meeting Tonight

With early entries pouring in, a race which exceeds all previous years, indications are that a large, as well as a highly competitive field will be ready to start their motors in this year's fifth running of the Kingston Outboard Regatta, which is scheduled for the Rondout creek Sunday, July 7.

Most of the names received thus far are from pilots who need no introduction to local followers. One is Jack Schoolcraft, Jr., of Schenectady, who always offered plenty of competition. He is entered in Classes B, C and F.

Others are Al Stowell, Gil Kelley, both Grade A pilots from Scotia, Walt Case, Mystic, Conn., and Joe Stager of Far Rockaway, who took away some of the prizes at the 1941 event. The ever-present White brothers of Poughkeepsie also will be back for this year's regatta which is the first under the sponsorship of the Kingston Powerboat Association since 1941.

One of the White clan, Al White, who is now a captain in the army stationed in Washington, D. C., will be entered in the Class C event. Others are Perry Relyea, Highland; Jack Kelly, Pine Bush and Paul Cohn, a newcomer from Ellenville.

Everything is set for tonight's great boxing show at municipal stadium which will feature the personal appearance of Joe Louis, the world's heavyweight boxing champion. Workmen were busy this morning at the uptown ball park getting all of the extra bleachers and special ring-side chairs in place for the expected throng of 7,000 people. Tonight's stellar ring show lists a fine array of amateur boxers including Clarence Alleyne, New York Golden Gloves welter champ of 1946 who will mix it up with Jimmy Marlo, winner of the lightweight national A.A.U. title in 1942. Jimmy Taylor of Newburgh will be pitted against Paul Fish of Comstock. Fish has fought here before and has made a good impression on local fight fans. The first preliminary is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock.

Tonight's Card of Bouts At Municipal Stadium
Following is the complete card of bouts scheduled for municipal stadium tonight when Joe Louis will make a personal appearance:

Main Feature
Freddie Baia, Amsterdam, vs. Richard Dallas, New York Golden Gloves champ.

Semi-Final
Jimmy Marlo, Albany, national A.A.U. lightweight champ of 1942 vs. Clarence Alleyne, New York Golden Gloves welter champ of 1946.

Carmen Virgilio, Poughkeepsie, vs. George "Babyface" Decker, Schenectady.

Paul Hawks, Beacon, vs. Eddie Morton, Albany.

Dave Hinkley, Poughkeepsie, vs. Sherman Gee, Albany.

Paul Fish, Comstock, vs. Jimmy Taylor, Newburgh.

Harold Morton, Albany, vs. Barney Emberson, Kingston.

The first preliminary will start at 9 o'clock.

Joe Louis
Making his first public appearance since his title bout with Billy Conn, Joe Louis told reporters in Buffalo last night that he will "probably fight in September and the match probably will be with Tami Maunula," the Associated Press reported today.

The world's heavyweight boxing champion said he would attend another boxing match with promoter Mike Jacobs in New York City this morning when he is expected to make his appearance here in Kingston tonight. Louis met with Jacobs yesterday to discuss such a bout with Mauriello but nothing definite was decided at that time. The Associated Press said this morning that Louis' conference with Jacobs today might result in some definite arrangements for the new title bout.

Baseball Meeting
A special meeting of all team managers and league officials of the Mid-Hudson League has been called for Friday evening in Poughkeepsie to hear the report on the recent ball game which took place between Wappingers Falls and the Newburgh Shapiro Jews last Sunday. Indications are that the Wappingers team will be named the loser and that further action will be taken to curb the Newburgh club's present stand on the matter.

Cubans Dominate Mexican Averages

Nap Reyes, Ex-Giant Hitting at .371

Mexico City, June 27 (P)—Imported talent, whether it be from the major leagues across the border or from Cuba, held down most of the top percentage places in the Mexican Baseball League today. Three Cubans—Claro Duany, Pedro Formentor and Agustin Bejerano—lead the Pasquel circuit in batting, followed by another Cuban, Napoleon Reyes, who jumped from the New York Giants to the cactus circuit. Duany has an average of .399 for 158 times at bat and 63 hits, and has scored 37 runs. Formentor is pounding the ball at a .384 clip. Bejerano at .372 and Reyes at .371.

Better Golf By SAM SNEAD

4. Pictured is the putter blade at the extreme limit of the back stroke. Notice that in this position that left forearm and club shaft form a straight line. The club-head, after swinging it back squarely across the direction line as far as you comfortably can, has been drawn in by the wrist action to the position pictured. There is no tenseness in the body, arms or hands for tenseness spoils accuracy. The hands are close in to the body and if you're bending over properly, the left forearm rests easily, lightly on the left leg. How far you take the club back depends upon how far you want the ball to roll forward. And you should shoot for a spot a foot or so beyond the cup. This is to make sure that you give the ball a chance to drop. Notice that the blade of the club at the extreme of the backswing has opened slightly. On wet greens you must allow for the retarding effect of the moisture on the roll of the ball. This means, of course, that you hit a bit harder. But if the greens are dry, then just the reverse.

Deputies Search After Prowlers With No Results

Prowlers were reported on the loose in two sections of the county last night, but sheriff's office investigators uncovered no cause for action in two checkups. The sheriff received a call at 11:10 p. m. from Eleanor Vredenberg of West Hurley who reported that a Mrs. Krause, who lives on the Woodstock Road, had phoned her and reported that a man was lurking in her barn. County Investigator Clayton Vredenberg and Deputy Leonard Belmont were dispatched to the Krause farm and made a thorough check of the barn. There was evidence that someone had been in the barn, presumably looking for a place to sleep, but the prowler had made his exit before the sheriff's men arrived. Thomas Smith of Old Hurley reported to the sheriff's office at 1:20 this morning that someone was trying to break into a house next door. Deputy Geiger made a thorough investigation but found no evidence of attempted entry or burglary. Smith told the deputy that he had heard footsteps and creaking noises from the nearby house.

Gromyko's Use Of Veto Criticized

tion was approved by a majority vote of 9 to 2, with Russia and Poland against it. President Castillo Najera declared it was adopted.

This was promptly disputed by Gromyko, who contended that the resolution involved "substantive" matters which were subject to his veto. Najera held that the question was procedural, and thus did not require the seven affirmative votes including all those of the Big Five holding the veto power, and then asked the council to vote on his ruling.

Russia and France voted against it, with Poland abstaining, and Najera declared the veto had been invoked.

Russia had used the veto only twice before, in London last winter on the Levantine question and here last week to defeat a twice watered-down subcommittee proposal to pass the Spanish case along to the general assembly.

It was pointed out that under an agreement reached among the big powers at San Francisco last year, any one of them may offer a proposal and, if it is defeated, may then revive it by calling for a vote as to whether it is substantive or procedural. On the latter question a single Big Five power may invoke the veto by voting the matter is substantive.

Gromyko's Contention

Gromyko contended that the Australian-British resolution, which he vetoed by a single vote declaring it in the substantive category, mixed both substantive and procedural questions. Further efforts to separate these prolonged the debate.

Russia last night exercised the veto on these majority-approved questions:

The British-Australian proposal to keep the Spanish case on the agenda without specifying a date for its revival and including provisions calling attention of the rights of the general assembly to act.

The council president's ruling that the previous issue was procedural and not subject to veto.

A provision calling attention of the rights of the general assembly to act.

French Delegate Alexandre Parodi declared that as the result of the security council session "it seems to me that those who are fighting for the freedom of Spain have less grounds to congratulate themselves than Franco and his regime."

A spokesman for the exiled Spanish Republican leadership said the clash between Gromyko and President Castillo Najera was "highly regrettable" and that the council had engaged in "fruitless debate on matters of procedure or substance, the only result of which is to strengthen materially the Franco regime."

Castillo Najera's country, Mexico, recognizes the Spanish Republican leadership as the government of Spain and Russia never has given diplomatic recognition to Franco.

Cat Catacomb

A mummified cat was found above the ceiling of a room by workmen on bomb repairs at the All-England Tennis Club, Wimbledon. The animal is thought to have climbed in during construction of the building 26 years ago and to have been accidentally bricked in while asleep.

Drinks have MORE LIFE with PIN-POINT CARBONATION

Ordinary club sodas...carbonated tap waters...can't compare with Canada Dry Water. Here's why:

- Pin-Point Carbonation—millions of tinier bubbles that keep tall drinks sparkling and lively to the last sip.
- Exclusive Formula—scientifically developed and laboratory-controlled to point up the flavor of your drink.
- Special Processing—water used is specially treated and multi-filtered to assure purity, balance and clarity.
- Superior Quality—rigidly maintained from bottle to bottle, from day to day, the world over.

Texan Would Kill O.P.A. in U.S.

Sunday midnight, or call up vocal reinforcements, he could succeed—in theory at least. The present O.P.A. law expires June 30.

However, there is no present indication that any colleague will team up with O'Daniel in his projected talkathon. And the leadership is determined to keep the Senate in long sessions if necessary to bring the compromise price control extension bill to a final vote.

As a matter of practical legislation, even a now-till-Sunday non-stop speech would cause no more than a brief lapse in price control regulations. A majority of the Senate obviously is in a mood to approve the measure worked out by a joint conference committee. And the extension bill would be effective if passed a few hours or even a few days past the deadline.

O'Daniel, a former flour salesman who campaigned for office with a hill-billy band and a "Pass the Biscuits Pappy" theme song, maintained an appearance of bright optimism.

"I'm against this O.P.A. and I want to do away with it, I introduced a resolution right after the shooting was over to abolish it, but I guess they must have stuck it under the rug."

If I can talk until Monday morning the American people will wake up under an American form of government, and I think that will be refreshing. We've been under this Communistic form long enough."

O'Daniel said he didn't expect rent controls from his general condemnation of the price agency.

The Senate leadership did not take O'Daniel's filibuster threat very seriously, although the Texan had his desk piled a foot or more high with documents, notes and other speaking material.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.)

Law Bans Fireworks Sale to Public

No public fireworks display in any of the city's parks has been planned by the city authorities for the Fourth of July, and no official program of activities for the holiday has been announced.

While the city may put on a public display of fireworks on the holiday if desired, the sale of fireworks to individuals is banned under the state law. It is also illegal for any individual to discharge fireworks without first obtaining a special permit from the police department.

Banning of the sale of fireworks to individuals throughout the state was enacted into state law several years ago as a public safety measure to prevent death or accidents to either children or adults.

Just as was feared at San Francisco by those who insist that any lasting peace is going to involve surrender of certain sovereign rights by all nations, the Russian idea of how the veto is to be used in the Security Council has come to overshadow any other issue before the United Nations.

velops later, will give them a freedom of action superior to all previous commitments.

This is a serious problem. It is still true, as argued at San Francisco, that use of the veto in this fashion can completely hamstring the peace organization and nullify the entire weight of world opinion at any time.

There are peculiarities in the situation, however, which prevent the United States from seeking a complete revision, or elimination, of the veto power, and which make the attack on it by Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British delegate, disturbing.

In an address written before Russia's use of the veto three times in one day during the Spanish argument, Sir Alexander said the Russian attitude toward the veto would tie up the council and make it an "all or nothing body." He was right, of course, but from the standpoint of the United States it is to be hoped that the British will confine their opposition to what they consider unwise and obstructionist use of the veto, and not suggest the elimination of the veto power entirely. It is easy to consider the latter as a solution. But one thing must be borne in mind constantly.

The United States is the possessor of something which every other nation on the globe lacks but would like to have—the knowledge of the atomic bomb. The United States already has been envied and sometimes hated because of her wealth and strength. She has every right to demand protection against any coalition which might threaten this position. Pending establishment of arms controls which now appear far in the future, the veto power in the United Nations is chief among America's political weapons of defense.

Never Was Intention
This was never the general intention at San Francisco, and all every step in the council's proceedings seems to be intent, above the smaller nations and many observers strongly suspected that things would develop just as they have—that the veto would be only a last ditch insurance that no power would be forced to act against its best interests or against the opinion of its people in truly vital matters, such as use of armed force.

There was strong doubt that the U. S. Senate would approve any charter which would commit the United States, in advance, to act in vital situations without the approval of Congress.

Now what has developed, apparently, is a procedure by which the veto can be exercised during council deliberations on whether the subject in hand is, in its substance, subject to the veto. If this stands, it means that any member of the Big Five can veto anything—can even prevent discussion of any subject.

Planters Want Seed
A Mexican importing company is blamed for the plight of 2,000 Mexican planters who lack seed for this year's cotton crop. Mexico City reports. They complain that the seed had been held up on the United States side of the border because necessary permits to import it to Mexico were not obtained. The cotton planters also claim they are in a precarious position because $6,000,000 which was to have been loaned to small plantation owners by their government has not materialized.

Peron Outlines His Argentine Policy

Buenos Aires, June 27 (AP)—A peaceful foreign policy, reduction of the nation's armed forces and an agrarian program modeled after that of the United States were among recommendations outlined before the Argentine congress yesterday by President Juan D. Peron.

Indicating that he expected ratification of the United Nations charter by the congress—more than two thirds of which is politically aligned with the president—Peron said that "national and international commitments arising from support of the charter" would affect Argentina's naval planning.

The president added that international treaties which Argentina has signed will be submitted to congress for a decision on "whether they are constitutional" and in the best interest of the country.

PAY AS YOU RIDE
A small down payment and 8 monthly payments buys auto insurance, if you want credit. You need insurance to avoid trouble and possible loss of your driver's license.
For $5.00 you can buy $1,100 fire insurance on furniture in a dwelling in Kingston for 3 years. The policy also covers up to $110 in any place outside the home.
What if someone falls on your sidewalk or is injured on your premises? $5 a year insures a private home against such claims.
Plate glass insurance does not cost much. Ask for an estimate.
I have a monthly payment plan which enables business men to pay insurance premiums out of income. It's a confidential, convenient insurance service.

Double Funeral Held For William S. Hart

Glendale, Calif., June 27 (AP)—Double funeral services were conducted yesterday for William S. Hart, pioneer cowboy films who had become a symbol of the old west.
Tanned ranch hands, neighbors and a few film associates gathered with members of the family for a morning service at the windswept Newhall Ranch of the actor who died Sunday at the age of 83.
A duplicate service, open to the public, was conducted in the afternoon at the Church of the Reconciliation here. Nearly a thousand persons attended to bury Dr. John Davidson of St. John's Episcopal Church read the service. Rudy Vallee sang the songs Hart loved, "Long, Long Trail" and "The Last Roundup."

William S. Hart, Jr., Hart's son, and Winifred Westover, the actor's divorced wife, attended both services. Hart's ashes will be buried in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y., near the grave of his sister, Mary.
